Egypt Making Success Of Operating Canal

BY EDDIE GILMORE
LONDON (AP)—Western shippers indicated today Egypt's comparatively smooth operation of the Suez Canal has caused them to suspend plans for a mass by-passing of the waterway by voyages around Africa.
Egyptian figures show daily traffic has dropped only five or six ships from normal since most foreigners on the canal's piloting staff walked out Sept. 14.

PUZZLE PRIZE NOW $650 —'MEN' TOO TOUGH

Establishing a new record each week, the Times Crossword Puzzle Contest today offers a total award of $650 since no entry in last week's contest was completely correct.
It was a scrambled word that upset most of last week's puzzlers. The clue read:
"Often very fussy with offspring (scrambled)." All sorts of answers were given, including "Hen," "Nan," "Man" and "Cat." But the correct answer was "Men."
A hen is proverbially always fussy with its chicks—not just "often" so. Some types of MEN are often fussy with children.
So, a brand new contest is published on Page 30 today, together with complete answer and explanation of more difficult clues to last week's puzzle.

The construction project is being carried out by Dominion Construction Ltd.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Air Force Thursday announced the award of a multi-million dollar research and development contract for an electronic weapon system for the RCAF's new CF-105 jet fighter. See Nuclear Plant

MOSCOW (UP)—Western newsmen got their first look Thursday at the Communist bloc's joint nuclear research centre at the village of Dubna in the suburbs of Moscow.

During the all-day tour, they inspected a new 10-million-volt electro parton synchrotron—the world's largest. They also saw a 480-million electron volt cyclotron and other installations at "atomic village."

Drew Delays Decision

TORONTO (CP)—George Drew, retired leader of the Progressive Conservative party, will wait until he is fully recovered before he makes a decision about his future, his wife said today. She was commenting on reports Thursday that her husband has been offered by Prime Minister St. Laurent either a seat in the Senate or the lieutenant-governorship of Ontario.

CHESTER, LE. STREET, Eng. (Reuters)—The Labor party retained the Chester-le-Street seat in Thursday's parliamentary by-election with an overwhelming majority of 21,287 votes.

'SEND THE OLD GANG PACKING'

U.K. Paper in Bitter Attack On Royal Family, Friends

LONDON (CP)—The royal court in the fifth year of the reign of Queen Elizabeth II has come under a startling attack from a brash British tabloid.

The Daily Mirror complains that the "new Elizabethan era" heralded when the young Queen ascended to the throne in 1952 is "still the age of the golden cobwebs."

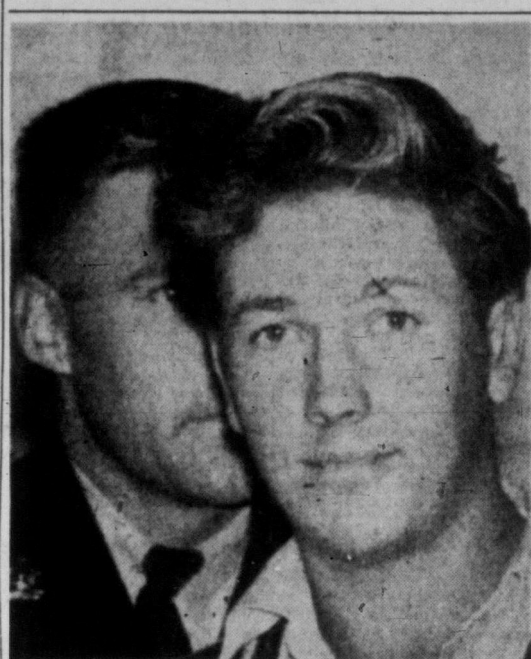

Dreams are fading, the newspaper says, of another adventurous age such as that under "Good Queen Bess" which produced such explorers as Drake and Raleigh and, in the field of arts, Shakespeare and Marlowe.

Favorites today at Buckingham Palace, the Mirror protests, are a dreary, stuffy crowd. The Mirror, which claims the largest daily readership in the world with a circulation of more than 4,500,000, has launched a

New Power Fight Splitting Kremlin?

DENYING ANY PART in Alberni grave desecration when first arrested, David Windsor Ferguson, 19, broke down in cell Thursday. Asking for paper and pencil he gave police statement implicating two girls.

4 Suspects Tell Police About Raid on Grave

All four persons held by police in connection with the Alberni grave desecration have now made voluntary statements concerning the grisly deed, it was learned today.

Two girls suspects were arrested in Saanich Thursday. One, Alma Doreen Lockner, 19, has been held at the city jail. Her companion, a juvenile of 17, was kept in custody at Coal Harbor Road detention home.
RCMP officials said both have now made statements concerning the events which culminated in the body of an elderly man being dragged from his grave and towed behind a car with a logger's boom chain.

Implicated Two Female Companions

He suddenly asked for pencil and paper and gave a statement implicating two girl companions. The other youth taken into

City Backs Juvenile Law Changes

City Police Commission will ask Attorney-General Robert Bonner to remove juveniles, aged 15 to 18, from protection of the Juvenile Act.
The recommendation today will give strength to an earlier report by Vancouver chief constable George Archer to the Vancouver City Council.

The pair had been kept in separate jails—Nelson at Port Alberni, Ferguson at Alberni. Nelson and Ferguson appeared in police court Thursday. Ferguson reserved plea and was remanded to Oct. 6.
Nelson pleaded guilty and was remanded to the same date.
Late police reports indicate a third girl was thought to have been present at the cemetery but left when she learned what was contemplated. The two boys are believed to have been at the cemetery earlier in the evening with two other Alberni district girls.

PENNANT PITCHING PICKS

Braves Select Buhl; Dodgers Name Craig

By United Press
The high-riding Milwaukee Braves can clinch at least a tie for the National League pennant tonight, if a couple of Dodger-killers named Bob Buhl and Bob Friend can just drive two more nails in Brooklyn's coffin.

All it would take would be for bushy-browed Buhl of the Braves to beat the St. Louis Cardinals at St. Louis while pudgy-cheeked Friend of the Pittsburgh Pirates beats the Dodgers in Brooklyn.

The combination of events would put Milwaukee two full games ahead of Brooklyn with only two games left to go. Even if the Braves lost their remaining two games, the best Brooklyn could do would be tie for

Khrushchev Flight With Tito Seen Hint of Struggle

(From AP and BUP)

LONDON—Nikita Khrushchev was reported today to be in trouble with some Soviet leaders, and may be seeking the support of Yugoslavia's President Tito for his policies of de-Stalinization and easing up on Russia's East European satellites.

Press reports here and in Austria say a new struggle for power inside the Kremlin was back of the surprise trip by Tito to the Soviet Union in company with Khrushchev, who is first secretary of the Soviet Communist party.

Without a word of explanation, Tito took off from Belgrade on Thursday with Khrushchev, who had spent eight days in seclusion with the Yugoslav leader.

Moscow radio said Tito and Khrushchev had arrived in Yalta, site of the "Big Three Meeting" of the Second World War. Earlier Moscow disclosed that Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov were at Sochi, a Red army health resort 300 miles from Yalta across the Black Sea.

NO EXPLANATION

There was no official explanation of the trip other than Belgrade and Moscow announcements that Tito and Khrushchev "will be resting" along Russia's Black Sea coast, a subtropical area long famous as a winter resort.

The facts pointed to one conclusion: something of extreme seriousness brought on Khrushchev's mysterious trip to Yugoslavia and Tito's even more amazing flight with him to Crimea.

A surprising feature was Tito's decision to fly. He has not flown since Second World War when the Allies evacuated him from Yugoslavia by air after Nazi troops surrounded his mountain hideaway. Usually he travels by car or armored train.

The reports here and in Vienna say the free-spoken Soviet party boss at last has been caught in a squeeze by a Stalinist bloc in the Politburo and Soviet Army chiefs.
Former foreign minister V. M. Molotov and former premier Georgi Malenkov were reported to believe that Khrushchev had gone too far in his de-Stalinization campaign.

SECURITY DANGER

The army was reported concerned that in trying to please Tito, Khrushchev's policy of easing up on control of the satellites had misfired, and that Soviet security was endangered.

The independent Vienna newspaper Neuer Kurier, in a dispatch from the Yugoslav capital which quotes a "high ranking personality," declares that Khrushchev has been summoned to appear before the Kremlin leadership sitting as a "party court."

The dispatch says Khrushchev was accused of a policy which went awry in the satellites and "led, among other things, to the June 28 Poznan riots in Poland." It says the "party court" may either have been called by Khrushchev's opponents or by Khrushchev himself in an effort to "rehabilitate" himself.

It adds that Khrushchev took Tito back to the Soviet Union as his witness to "Stalin's monstrosities."

U.S. INVITES REDS TO SEE FREE ELECTION

WASHINGTON (UP)—This country has invited Russia and four other Red countries to send representatives on an expense-paid tour of the United States to observe "free electoral processes."

The state department said today the invitations went out about nine days ago to Moscow, Poland, Hungary, Romania and Czechoslovakia. They were asked to send two or three observers each.

If the Communist nations accept, the visitors will be permitted to see the windup of the election campaign and observe Americans going to the polls "around the country." They will see and hear the candidates. Their expenses will be paid by the United States while they are here.

The invitations in effect underscored President Eisenhower's recent call for free elections in Poland.

Illegal Police Work Admitted In Poznan Riot

POZNAN, Poland (UP)—Seven young Poles accused of such crimes as armed attacks on the public security office and firing at government officials—gave their side of the story today in the second day of the Poznan riot trials.

Two others on trial with them, Zenon Urbanek, a 20-year-old railroad worker, and Josef Pocztowy, pleaded "partially guilty" to the charges Thursday. The trial adjourned before the other seven could speak before the three-judge tribunal.

Three other Polish youths tried on charges of beating a Polish army corporal to death during the June riots heard a prosecutor admit four policemen were under arrest for using illegal methods in attempting to extract confessions.

POLICE STAND GUARD

Trials of the three accused murderers and the other men are being held in Poznan's grey stone courthouse only half a mile from the June riots in which 53 persons were killed. The trials are expected to end Oct. 2 or 3.

A large contingent of police stood guard outside the building today.

NEW DIRECTION—President Eisenhower may be campaigning as a "middle-of-the-road" candidate in the U.S. elections Nov. 6, but the traffic marker for Eisenhower Drive apparently urges an even more conservative course. Judgment Reserved On Sturdy Application

Decision Expected Next Week in Action To View Bank Records of Four Firms

VANCOUVER (CP)—Judgment was reserved Thursday on a request by Vancouver lawyer David Sturdy that he be allowed to see four bank accounts to back up his defence against a slander action by Robert E. Sommers, former British Columbia land and forests minister.

Mr. Sommers took the action after the lawyer made statements about him before the Sloan forestry commission.

Records sought by Mr. Sturdy are those of Pacific Coast Services Ltd., Evergreen Lumber Sales Ltd., H. Wilson Gray, C. D. Schultz and Co. Ltd. and B.C. Forest Products. Thomas H. Dohm, appearing in Supreme Court Thursday for Mr. Sturdy, said "this is not a fishing expedition. We know what we are looking for and the dates that interest us. We will not want to see any other entries."

He said the records are needed to back up his client's "allegation of a relationship between the plaintiff and the firms concerned."

Mr. Sturdy's affidavit alleged "existence of a system for channelling funds to the plaintiff."

Alfred Bull, appearing for Mr. Sommers, objected to the application and to an affidavit by Mr. Sturdy referring to a speech made by Mr. Sommers in the legislature. He said the speech was privileged and completely irrelevant to the slander suit.

Mr. Bull said his client will be entering "relevant" entries from his bank accounts in an affidavit or documents in the near future.

APPLICATION 'PREMATURE'
"That will be produced which is relevant, that which is not relevant will not be produced," he said. Accounts of Mr. Sommers would be presented in the next day or two and Mr. Sturdy's application was "premature."

Walter Owen, appearing for B.C. Forest Products, also objected to issuance of a court order making the firm's bank records available to Mr. Sturdy.

He said that if an order is made Mr. Sturdy's examination must be restricted to specific items previously identified.

Poor Bond Market Thwarting Saanich

Reeve Calls on Provincial Government To Guarantee Loans for Public Works

Unless the provincial government guarantees loans for municipal projects, Saanich and other B.C. municipalities may be forced to curb public work programs due to a rapidly deteriorating bond market.

This warning was sounded Thursday by Reeve Arthur Ash, who disclosed that Saanich had withdrawn from the open market its $220,000 waterworks bond issue approved for sale by ratepayers last December.

The reeve said the issue was withdrawn because Saanich would have suffered a discount loss in the sale of its bonds of about $20,000 due to increased interest rates and the lack of competition on the open market.

"We could have sold the bonds but we would have taken a terrific beating," he said.

The reeve said municipalities across Canada were faced with the same problem of trying to borrow money at low interest rates for the public works programs.

This was becoming increasingly difficult, he said, because markets for municipal bonds were deteriorating.

The reeve said he will press the Union of B.C. Municipalities meeting next month to ask the provincial government to guarantee municipal bonds as they do for schools and village municipalities.

This would enable the municipalities to borrow money at low interest rates, he said.

Referring to the sale of waterworks debentures, the reeve said council called for tenders late last winter. The highest bid received was $90 on each $100 bond.

This meant a loss of about $20,000 on the total issue. While councillors were considering accepting the tender, the reeve said, the council was informed by the brokers a few days before the deadline they could only place $114,000 of the total issue, but at a further increase in the discount.

The brokers said they could not sell the remaining issue of $106,000 worth of debentures. "In view of this situation," the reeve said, "we felt we should withdraw the bonds from the market and borrow from the banks instead."

The reeve said the municipality may have to go to the U.S. to borrow $850,000 to complete its sewer project, if the ratepayers approve the by-law, Oct. 27.

While some councillors agreed that the provincial government should guarantee municipal bonds, they felt there were signs that conditions in the open market will improve. "It doesn't matter when we sell our bonds on the open market," said Coun. Leslie Passmore. "The moment we put them up for sale its a gamble. That's the trouble with the system. We have no guarantee that we will get a good price for municipal debentures."

The reeve said the market conditions in the United States were somewhat better and many Canadian municipalities are selling their bonds there. "We could sell the bonds in the United States," he said, "but we might run into difficulty in placing the issue as the sum of $220,000 would be considered peanuts."

Ghost Exploits Royal Visit; Gets His Rum

PORT LOUIS, Mauritius (AP)

The British governor of this Indian Ocean island is placating the ghost of an admiral with a glass of rum every night—all because Princess Margaret is coming for a visit.

The princess will stay at the governor's mansion after she arrives here Saturday aboard the royal yacht Britannia. The governor, Sir Robert Scott, and his family have moved into a part of the 18th-century building called the Admiral's Wing because the ghost of an old sea-dog is said to haunt it.

"Tradition," Sir Robert explained, "says the ghost can only be placated by a glass of rum left out nightly."

"The rum always gets drunk. But personally, I don't believe in the ghost story."

Meanwhile, a political crisis is brewing on the island colony and a labor politician has called for a boycott of the royal visit.

HE MAY BE 150 YEARS OLD BUT HIS RIGHT STILL HURTS

NEW YORK (AP)—A New York hospital report Thursday said that peppery little Javier Pereira is a very old man, and "possibly he may be more than 150 years of age."

Even if he is the world's oldest man, the report added, the tiny Indian from Colombia is spry and better preserved in some respects than many men.

Pereira underscored the finding when he broke up a press conference by taking swings at a couple of reporters. He hit one who reported:

"Believe me, it hurts."

Pereira, four feet, four inches tall, was brought here from South America two weeks ago to try to test the claim of some people that he is 167 years old.

$15 MILLION LOANED EGYPT TO BUY CANADIAN WHEAT

WASHINGTON (AP)—Egypt has been granted a $15,000,000 emergency loan from the International Monetary Fund which will be used for the purchase of Canadian wheat, a spokesman said Thursday night.

A fund spokesman said the loan is covered fully by Egypt's contribution in gold to the fund. He said the transaction is considered routine and one that every country participating in the fund has the right to make.

Under the fund's regulations Egypt is expected to repay the loan within three years but has a maximum of five in which to make repayment. Interest on such a fund withdrawal runs about one-half of one per cent.

Election in June Strongly Hinted By St. Laurent

OTTAWA (CP)—A strong hint has been given by Prime Minister St. Laurent that the federal Liberal Party will go to the country next June to seek its sixth consecutive mandate.

Tories Ready For Election, Says Pearkes

The Progressive Conservative Party will be ready whenever Prime Minister St. Laurent calls a federal election, Maj. Gen. G. R. Pearkes, VC, MP, said Thursday night.

"We are delighted to accept that opportunity," the Conservative MP said at the annual meeting of the party's Esquimalt-Saanich Association. About 100 people attended.

Gen. Pearkes said the Liberal government has been "flouting" the people of Canada in Parliament.

"The government, swollen with its own sense of authority, has been riding roughshod over the rights of the individual, thus assuring its doom at the next election," he said.

George Drew, recently retired as party leader, stood up against the dictatorial majority of the government at the last session.

"Mr. Drew has been defending, as did many statesmen years ago, the rights of the individual," Gen. Pearkes said.

Bandits Foiled, Payroll Missed Bus

LA CIOTAT, France (Reuters)—Five masked bandits armed with machine-guns Thursday held up a busload of passengers near here and made off with three mailbags. Police said the bandits had probably expected to find in the bags a 50,000,000-franc ($140,000) payroll scheduled for delivery to the La Ciotat naval dockyard. But its dispatch had been postponed.

FRENCHMEN PANIC

Monkey Frees Hyena In Riotous Runaway

PARIS (Reuters)—A monkey on a horse rode out of a circus ring Wednesday night and snapped the catch on a hyena's cage as he went by.

Shell Explodes In U.S. Warship; 1 Dead, 9 Hurt

YOKOSUKA, Japan (AP)—An exploding shell killed one American sailor and injured nine others aboard the United States destroyer USS Laffey Thursday. A navy announcement said that apparently the time mechanism in the fuse of a fragmentation shell exploded prematurely. The bursting shell pierced the destroyer's hull, ruptured the ship's forward fire main and put gun mount out of action.

HINT BOLSTERED

Mr. St. Laurent's hint that an election may be held next June was bolstered by two other statements he made to reporters. He said there will be no fall session of Parliament and the session that opens next year, probably early in January, is "apt" to be short.

Some observers believe Finance Minister Harris will bring down his budget in February with the session ending in late March or early April. Speculation on election dates has centred on June 10 and June 17—both Mondays.

Replying to questions about a June vote, the prime minister said:

"I think there is apt to be the necessity of providing for a national election."

The Liberals in power since 1953, picked June as an election month in 1945 and 1949. The 1953 election was held Aug. 10 and resulted in Opposition complaints that many Canadians were away on summer holidays during the period of enumeration and on voting day.

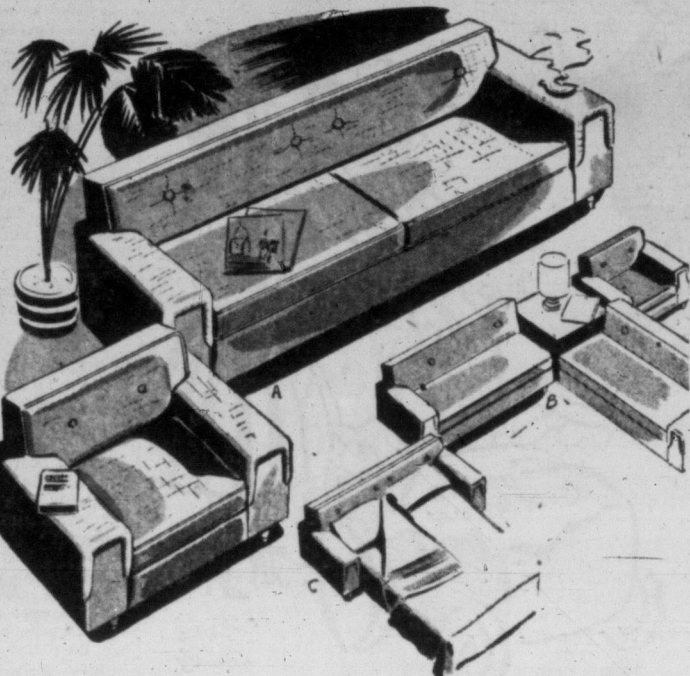

RESIGNATION EXPECTED

If a June election returns the Liberals, some observers here believe the prime minister will continue in office for a period before retiring. There would then be a national Liberal convention to choose a successor to Mr. St. Laurent who will be 75 next Feb. 1. Present standing in the 263-seat chamber: Liberals, 170; Progressive Conservatives, 53; CCF, 22; Social Credit, 15; Independents, three; vacancies, two.

The Cabinet Changes

MR. BENNETT HAS TRIMMED ship in his cabinet and added two more to the executive crew with which he finished his previous term.

The shuffle in portfolios indicates the premier's assessment of the ministerial strengths of his council colleagues. His new appointments reflect a certain logic.

The upper Island is rewarded for returning new Social Credit members by the appointment of Nanaimo's Mayor Earle C. Westwood. He steps in ahead of older hands to become a minister (trade and industry) before he has physically filled a seat in the Legislature.

If this is admittedly a junior portfolio, the choice of Mr. Westwood still speaks eloquently of Mr. Bennett's judgment of cabinet material on the Government side of the House.

Mr. Peterson, who won the very important Vancouver Centre by-election for Social Credit last January and sat for part of last session, was expected to advance rapidly up the government ladder. He has important duties ahead of him as the new minister of education, though probably they will be less onerous than those assumed by Mr. Ray Williston—formerly a career educationist—when he took over the department.

Mr. Bennett has expressed his confidence in Mr. Williston by placing him officially in charge of lands and forests. The portfolio requires a man of soundness and ability and one capable of establishing public confidence in the departments handling resources which produce half B.C.'s wealth.

His capacities, recognized beyond

party lines, coupled with what has apparently been a satisfactory job of administering the department since it was thrust upon him following the Sommers' resignation, seem to equip Mr. Williston for his tasks.

In another significant change, Mr. Kenneth Kiernan, having brought in a milk act patterned on the Clyne Report, leaves agriculture to concentrate on mines—a responsibility handed to him also when Mr. Sommers left the cabinet.

This change will be variously interpreted, as will the transfer to Mr. Ralph Chetwynd of the agricultural and fisheries departments, while railways—which means the PGE—goes to Mr. Lyle Wicks, who retains his labor portfolio.

The premier is evidently satisfied with others on the executive council. Mr. Wesley D. Black, Mr. Robert W. Bonner, Mr. P. A. Gagliardi, Mr. Eric Martin and Mr. William Chant retain the offices they held in the last administration.

The rewards and responsibilities of politics have come quickly to Mr. Peterson, even more speedily to Mr. Westwood. This is understandable. Social Credit is still a young administration in this province. Significantly, the premier has picked young men for the very considerable tasks before it.

At this point no new and separate department of recreation has been announced. Mr. Bennett hints that such a development may occur. There is strong logic for creating such a ministry and no doubt its formation will be discussed at the next session.

Col. 'Cy' Peck, VC

FRIENDS FROM ALL WALKS of life have joined in spirit the special memorial service held by his old unit, the Canadian Scottish, in a final tribute to Col. Cyrus W. Peck, V.C.

His death, at 85, has taken from British Columbia one of its highly respected and colorful characters. A gallant soldier who carried into public life the forthrightness of his army training, Col. Peck served his fellows well. The blunt humor of his earlier years, the staunchness of his character, the valor of his service in the field will be remembered.

The Victoria Daily Times joins a host of friends in extending sympathy to the family.

Church and Divorce

A CHURCH OF ENGLAND CONference at Oxford has agreed that "divorce should be permissible in certain cases."

The opinion is of interest in this country because it implies a thoughtful religious sanction—based on New Testament evidence—for dissolution of marriages under specific circumstances.

The church approach is far behind that of English law, which has liberalized grounds for divorce to include incurable insanity on the part of a spouse and desertion for a period of years, as well as the conventional grounds existing in Canada—adultery.

The ecclesiastical pronouncement, however, is significant here because the recognized religious attitude toward divorce has imposed unshakable restraints on the conscience of many honest people whose unfortunate marriages have made life a tragedy for them.

The B.C. Bar Association on numerous occasions has presented a strong case for amendment of the law—not only on humanitarian grounds but to preserve the character of court. It is an open secret that existing legislation on the matter invites perjury and collusion, and thereby brings legal process into disrepute.

It is not to be expected that the conference at Oxford will be decisive in altering Canada's divorce laws. At the same time, the views expressed in the English city breach the prevailing belief that divorce is intolerable to those who hold firm religious convictions.

Eventually Canada's law will be changed, and the Oxford statement provides just one more justification for change.

Welcome Salesman

IT IS GOOD TO NOTE THAT Britain's top official salesman, Rt. Hon. A. R. W. Low, minister of state for overseas trade, is making the rounds of Canada to remind our people of the quality merchandise they can buy from his agencies.

It is encouraging, also, to note that he has laid aside the so-called British reticence to describe the merits of his wares.

Traditionally, of course, Canadians have looked to Britain for excellence in craftsmanship and soundness in material. Mr. Low, on his current trip, is bringing our people up-to-date on the advances the different British industries have made and the fields in which they hold pre-eminence.

Of course Mr. Low knows that Canadians will buy what they want if the price is right. They will make purchases, however, only if the materials and styles are to their taste. In his catalogue of stocks, Britain's salesman seems to have both variety and quality. It is to be hoped his mission is a success. It is to be hoped, too, that means may be found whereby the trade between Britain and Canada may be restored to a better balance.

Tourist Figures Proving Up

THE RECORD NUMBER OF cars admitted into British Columbia during August supports the earlier indications that the summer of 1936 would eclipse other similar tourist seasons in this province's history.

The motoring public, particularly the American family, is being drawn with increasing strength to this part of the continent—and for very good reasons.

No one is inclined to question the natural attractions of British Columbia to vacationers. As more and more facilities are provided for motor travel and camping, as well as for those visitors who prefer resorts, this part of Canada can look to an increasing number of visitors.

During a summer of such excellent weather as that prevailing this year the magnet of B.C. has proved its power.

One important factor has yet to be revealed, and will only be disclosed when the next tourist season starts: Have British Columbians made their guests so welcome that they will return with their friends? That is a question of vital importance. If the people of this province have shown the courtesy of which they are capable, the answer will be affirmative. And the record number of tourists will constitute the best of all possible advertisements—satisfied customers.

Questions of the Day

THIS surely must be the most impatient age in the world's history. The faster things happen the faster we demand that they happen. In fact nowdays we can't even wait until they happen. We anticipate what's to come by carrying out a public opinion poll. The idea is that if you ask enough people what they think is going to happen you can put all the answers together and get a true picture into the future. It's got to be such a science now that some bigwigs will hardly order their breakfast without taking a quick survey of opinion among a selected list of hog experts. They won't even buy a summer hat without a straw vote.

Of course it's impossible to question everybody on affairs of the day. The next best thing is to query a certain percentage of them, and that means that you have to select the few who best represent the many. That's where a lot of the polls fail. It's pretty hard to boil a population down to a few perfect representatives. Just look at some of the representatives we get!

Another problem that faces the pollsters is that so many people haven't a clue as to what the questioner is talking about. When the answers are listed in "yes" and "no" columns, there are always an awful lot left over under "don't know."

Whassat?

That "don't know" covers a good many different answers, ranging from "I'm afraid I must confess I'm unacquainted with the subject of your interrogation," right down to "Huh?"

Many a time a busy housewife will reply with nothing but an icy glance—woman's congenial weapon—and the pollster must know that her frame of mind is anything but "undecided." However, it will turn up in the statistics as "don't know."

In fact, "don't know" might be described as the great mass answer to all the important questions of the day. The human race is an obstacle race, as far as the straw-vote takers are concerned.

Of course, you have to consider the public's side of it too. Ignorance is bliss if playing dumb gets rid of that fellow on your doorstep quicker. On that basis it's a wonder the polls don't come out 100 per cent in the "don't know" column.

Perhaps some folks are so anxious for fame they don't mind having it anonymously. After all, it's a nice boost for your ego to be consulted about the problems of the day, even if you only appear as a nameless one of 10,000 in the $3,000-$4,000 wage bracket, or one of 5,000 brown-eyed six-footers who shave six times a week.

Except for the odd pollster who is overcome by curiosity at night and phones me up to learn what radio program I'm listening to—(Note to pollsters: You'll never catch me at it)—I've had no direct contact with the brain pickers.

But I like to think that I could handle them on the basis of that old story of the three men travelling by train. Says One: "Is this Wembley?" Says Two: "No, I think it's Thursday." Says Three: "So am I. Let's get off and have one."

Q. and A.

So the interview might go this way: Pollster: What do you think of anti-disestablishmentarianism?

Me: Well, it's hard to say.

Pollster: You're absolutely right. How do you feel about commercial fishing indices?

Me: Seems a good place to do it.

Pollster: Have you an opinion on the smear campaign?

Me: Where there's folk there's mire.

Pollster: Have you an opinion on ice?

Me: Yes, I'm trying to preserve it.

Pollster: Are you for or against any important questions?

Me: Nope. Married.

And so it goes. No wonder they've developed electronic brains to handle the answers they get.

They've got things down pretty much to a science these days. The questions are specially worded so as not to influence the answer. In the old days a lot depended on who was doing the questioning and how he did it. It's a fact, that in one eastern city, a fellow polled the population asking "Would you want rat poison dumped into your water supply?" When everybody answered "No!" he published the result as a 100 per cent opinion against fluoridation.

I think that's what the experts call a weighted question. I'd be the last one to make light of it.

As Our Readers See It

Bias and Intolerance

I have never read a letter so biased and intolerant as that of Mrs. S. H. Brake in your Friday paper. Anything critical of the Socreds she terms "vicious," any word in their favor is "fair-minded." Every other party is "utterly lacking in decency and honor."

She thinks the Socreds have done more for this province than any other government. Now let us see what they have done.

1. They have raised taxes so that this is now the highest taxed province in Canada.

2. They have despoiled Strathcona Park, a public park that belongs to the people, not to the Socreds or any other government in power. Mr. Bennett had no more right to sell the timber around Butte Lake than I have to pick the flowers in Beacon Hill Park.

3. In spite of their allegedly large surplus, they have borrowed $40,000,000 from New York. This is in direct contradiction of their pre-election promise to "pay as we go."

4. They have built roads, but so did other governments and with less scandal attached.

5. They built the PGE from Squamish to Vancouver, but the track was already there a lot of the way. The rockslide that stopped the first train was not the doing of the Liberals, it was one effect of incompetent government engineering.

As to charges of bribery and corruption, what is this $28 rebate on property tax (only for those who own property) but bribery? The charges against Mr. Somers were (after much prodding) investigated by the RCMP. If they had found a clean slate one would be pretty sure that the attorney-general would have blazoned the fact in headlines long ago. But he has flatly refused to publish his findings.

Mrs. Brake must realize that more than half the voters in B.C. voted against the Socreds, does she really think that all these people are "utterly lacking in decency and honor?"

HILDA G. HOWARD,
R.R. 2, Victoria.

Cannot Speak too Highly

As a recent visitor to your fair city, who on account of an illness had to be hospitalized, may I express through your paper my deep appreciation and thanks to Dr. T. McPherson and the Staff and Nurses of the Royal Jubilee Hospital.

I cannot speak too highly of the care and treatment which I received.

REV. NEVILLE BLUNT,
1975 N. W. Everett,
Portland 9, Oregon.

A $28 Vote

The election is now over and the government has been returned with a bigger majority. The results and majorities have puzzled many of our politicians both here and in Ottawa, as well as many party members. Yet all guesses on the real cause of the victory have not come to light.

Many say it was the result of smear propaganda. Others say it was the result of the popularity of the candidates and particularly the premier.

I contend that the result was in fact due to the "funny money" of $28 promised by the premier to all home owners. Home owners who didn't even attend a meeting, never paid any attention to press reports, and thousands who never even voted before flocked to the polls like sheep thinking they would get a cheque from Mr. Bennett any day in the mail for $28 to help them pay their taxes. None of these home owners ever gave it a thought that they will have to pay or repay that $28 "funny money" either one way or the other.

L. J. WALSH,

66 West 12th Street, Vancouver.

From W.A.S. to W.A.C.

My hope is, that you, Mr. Premier, will fulfill your promise to make Victoria the most beautiful, capital City of any province in Canada.

Nature has endowed us with the setting. But it needs men of courage and vision to harmonize nature's beauty with that of creative man.

Too long Victoria has been left in the hands of unimaginative inept minds, blind to our natural beauty.

Take it out of their control, Mr. Premier, like Ottawa has done.

During a recent stay in Ottawa, I spent days studying the plans and admiring the vision of those responsible for the breathless beauty of Parliament Hill.

But more important for Ottawa are the plans drawn up for its future.

Dare we hope you will do the same for Victoria?

Yes, Mr. Premier, go on opening up this wonderful province with roads and more roads, bridges and more bridges, especially a bridge or tunnel connecting Vancouver Island with the mainland.

But when you have done all that, make sure history will applaud your vision by permitting the roads and bridges to lead to the most beautiful cultural city on the northwest Pacific coast; a city really worthy to be called Victoria, the capital of British Columbia.

W. A. SCOTT.

Lacrosse Referees

We read in the account of the Nanaimo-Peterborough lacrosse game which appeared in the Times of Sept. 25 that "Another switch saw Roy Burton of Vancouver removed from the refereeing lineup. He officiated with a different eastern official for each of the first three games and both teams protested his calls."

This certainly makes very interesting reading for Shamrock fans in Victoria. Doesn't this rather prove that the Rocks were right, and that Mr. Burton was, and evidently still is, quite incompetent as a referee?

The action taken by the teams playing for the Mann must justify, if necessary, that action which the Shamrocks were forced to take, for when serious injury is imminent due to inconsistent and biased refereeing one is forced, as were the Rocks, to take drastic steps and reluctantly forego the ethics of the game.

Anyone who has attended all the home games, as well as several in Nanaimo and Vancouver, this season, knew that it was the only thing the Shamrocks could do.

We have been season ticketholders for the past five years and unless some positive assurance is given that something concrete is to be done about the situation as far as the refereeing is concerned we, with a great number of other fans, will not be back next year. If nothing is done and the games do not receive the support they have in the past, kindly put the blame where it belongs—the Inter-City Lacrosse Commission and the refereeing.

"SEASON TICKETHOLDER."

FROM HARLEM, NEW YORK

By STEWART ALSOP

Switching the Negro Vote

THE Negroes, whose votes could be decisive in a whole series of important states, are by no means wildly enthusiastic about Adlai Stevenson. But they are even less enthusiastic about Dwight D. Eisenhower. And, bar some dramatic and effective last minute gesture on the civil rights issue, the President has missed an opportunity to cut heavily into the huge majority Stevenson scored among Negroes in 1952. These conclusions spring from many hours of interviewing Negro voters in this vast city-within-a-city, the greatest concentration of Negro voters in the country, in company with Louis Harris, the professional public opinion expert.

The interviewing started in the slum areas. In several hours of climbing up and down the wooden stairs of rickety fire traps, we found not a single Negro voter who intended to vote Republican.

Asked why, almost all would respond in much the same words: "We're poor people, and the Democrats are more for the poor people."

Alsop

Adlai Stevenson is judged almost entirely by this standard, and he is often found wanting. Many Negroes are very moderate on segregation—"You can't change people overnight," they say. But to many others "moderation" is a dirty word, and there is little enthusiasm among them for Stevenson as the apostle of moderation.

Among these we found a few—a very few—who meant to vote for Eisenhower. There was an intellectual lawyer who admired Stevenson, hated Nixon, but meant to vote for the President because "we'll never get anywhere as long as the Democrats think they own us." There was a seaman who credited the President with desegregation in the Navy—"you wouldn't believe how different it is," he said.

Yet the administration gets very little credit for its civil rights achievements—no one person gave the Republicans any credit for the Supreme Court school decision, for example. And fully four out of ten cited the President's failure to intervene in the Clinton riots as evidence of his indifference on the civil rights issue.

Lost Opportunity

After many hours of interviewing Harris and this reporter felt certain that the President had missed a major political opportunity. He might have picked up 10 to 15 per cent of the Negro vote by an all-out stand on civil rights—enough to decide a close election.

The fact that the President was a most certainly right, in terms of national unity, in adopting a go-slow policy, is no doubt beside the point. In strictly political terms, the point is that the much advertised "big switch" to Eisenhower among Negro voters looks instead like a little switch, or even, conceivably, a switch at all.

The real difference is that, outside the slum areas, there are a lot of Negro voters who might have been persuaded to switch to Eisenhower—enough to make a big difference at the polls.

There is one issue, and one issue alone, which could cause such a switch—civil rights.

Harris had prepared questions on such matters as the Atherine Lucy case, the Emmett Till case, and the riots of Clinton, Tenn., to test awareness of the civil rights issue. In the slums, more often than not, the questions elicited no response at all.

Know the Answers

In the projects and apartments, we at length stopped asking the questions—we had learned that everybody knew all the answers in detail. Outside the slums, apathy about civil rights is replaced by a single-minded passion.

Adlai Stevenson is judged almost entirely by this standard, and he is often found wanting. Many Negroes are very moderate on segregation—"You can't change people overnight," they say. But to many others "moderation" is a dirty word, and there is little enthusiasm among them for Stevenson as the apostle of moderation.

Among these we found a few—a very few—who meant to vote for Eisenhower. There was an intellectual lawyer who admired Stevenson, hated Nixon, but meant to vote for the President because "we'll never get anywhere as long as the Democrats think they own us." Yet the administration gets very little credit for its civil rights achievements—no one person gave the Republicans any credit for the Supreme Court school decision, for example. And fully four out of ten cited the President's failure to intervene in the Clinton riots as evidence of his indifference on the civil rights issue.

In strictly political terms, the point is that the much advertised "big switch" to Eisenhower among Negro voters looks instead like a little switch, or even, conceivably, a switch at all.

'And Not to Yield'

MILDRED "Babe" Didrikson Zaharias, who made courage and victory the joint theme of a great athletic career, has lost the long fight.

Her death, at 42, places another famous name on the list of those who have succumbed to cancer. It shows how far medical science has yet to go to conquer a scourge of our times.

The light that flamed so brilliantly in the sports world has gone out. Yet the radiance lingers.

Babe Didrikson's star rose high in the athletic firmament at Los Angeles in 1932.

Under the hot August sun thousands sat tense in the Olympic Stadium as the 18-year-old girl from Texas gave the United States one of its first gold medals in that meet. A rangy youngster, made of rawhide and whalebone, unfeminine as the javelin she hurled, she proved herself in the early days of the Games.

She won her championship while hundreds of other athletes in the competitors' section sweated it out with the drama of world competition and with the strain of awaiting their own events.

ROAR OF THE CROWD

The voice of the crowd roared and screamed for her—a wave of sound, cresting in a high-pitched screech above the baying of male voices.

The "Babe" had won the javelin. That was the start. The roar sounded a second time, redoubled in volume as the girl from Texas scored again, skimming the baggy in the women's 80-yard hurdles, driving home. Had the rules of the high jump been what they are today—not the strict regulations which stopped a contestant from crossing the bar head-first—she might have added a third gold medal. As it was, her style disqualified her.

But the acclaim of the crowd seemed reserved for the arena and the sports pages. The "Babe" at that time had not the attractiveness and appeal which draw a coterie of attendants to the personable champion.

The boys, coming from workouts at the swimming pool, might whistle tribute to the face and lines of an Eleanor Holm, might invite Australia's friendly but not glamorous Bonny Mealing to tea. They gave Babe Didrikson their respect and left her alone.

It seemed a little unfair, but not unusual, that this young champion among champions should be denied what seems dear to the heart of most 18-year-old girls. Still Atlanta wasn't Helen, and maybe Babe didn't feel it.

The sports world heard a lot about Mildred Didrikson after the Los Angeles Olympics. The public read stories of her pitching baseball against men, of outstanding feats in other sports and then learned that Babe Didrikson was taking up golf and would be a top-notch.

TRANSFORMATION

That started the physical transformation. The tomboy learned how to wear soft woollen sweaters and well-cut skirts. She found that hair was something more than a nuisance on the top of her head. Nobody nominated her for a Miss America beauty contest, but the duckling certainly acquired improved plumage, became infinitely more appealing in her photographs—and still continued to show that genius in sports which had lifted her to the top at Los Angeles.

She brought to golf the abilities she had shown in track and field. The Babe began to regain big headlines as a champion in her new field.

That could have been expected. Apart from her unique physical skills, Babe Didrikson had the inspired competitive spirit that set victory and nothing less as the objective.

Her march of triumph made you feel proud that you "had known her when..." And ashamed that you hadn't been a little more courteous.

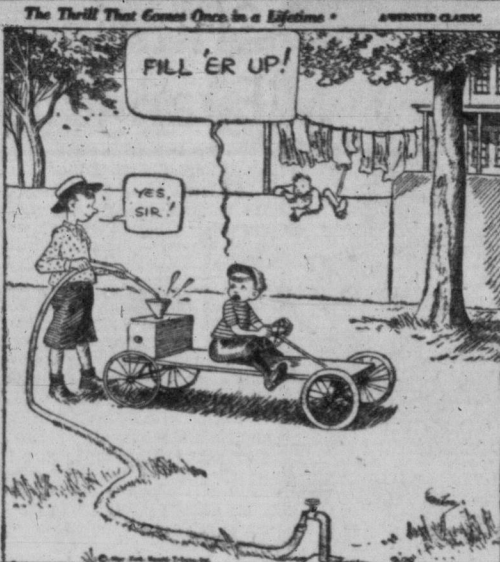

But if Mildred Didrikson Zaharias was the best of competitors in sports, her spirit was no greater in that field than in the last contest she entered—against cancer.

She came back from the first grim round—came back and won more golf tournaments. When the malignancy spread, she kept fighting.

She lost the big struggle. No one could have won it. But her name shines. She never gave up. A quarter century of women's athletics is finer because Babe Didrikson Zaharias was of it.

HOME GARDEN

By HILDA BEASTALL

Don't Burn Leaves They Make Compost

The season of abundance is upon us.

Vast quantities of material are now available to the compost maker. Even a first-year garden will have stacks of plant material of all kinds being cut down and ready to be made into compost.

And the garden with deciduous trees, those which lose their leaves in the fall, will soon be under a blanket of gold.

The wise gardener may wait until all the leaves are down before he rakes. But he won't wait so long that a gale blows them all out of his garden. That would be lost treasure, almost as bad as seeing the leaves go up in smoke.

The last three falls there have been fewer leaf-burning fires noticeable. It is good to know that the leaves are being used again in the soil.

An outdoor fire appeals to our primitive instincts, and we may wax philosophical while tending it, but let us confine the burning to brambles, rose prunings and woody prunings which take a long time to break down in a compost heap.

The ashes from the fire should be scattered on the compost heap, if not being kept for a specific crop next year, in which case they should be gathered while dry, and stored in a tin can under shelter.

English Cyclists To Be Treated Like Motorists

LONDON (Reuters)—Britain will shortly impose more stringent traffic rules on both pedestrians and bicycle riders in an attempt to curb traffic accidents.

Under the new laws, bicycle riders will be liable to prosecution for dangerous, careless, or drunken driving—just as if they were motorists.

Jaywalking will also be declared illegal, and pedestrians will be forced to obey policemen's signals or face fines of up to £10 for first offences. The maximum fine for reckless or careless driving will be doubled to £100.

Newfie Tory Chief 'Old Hand' At Battling Premier Smallwood

By GERALD FREEMAN

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—Up a flight of dingy stairs behind an obscure Water Street doorway a sharp-featured, scholarly man of 62 hunches over a desk plotting to overthrow the government.

Malcolm Hollett is campaigning in his first election as leader of the Progressive Conservative party in Newfoundland, but he is an old hand at other battles against Premier Joseph R. Smallwood.

"I have no personal animosity against Mr. Smallwood, only against government policy," Mr. Hollett says. "We don't like their policy. They should be driven out of office."

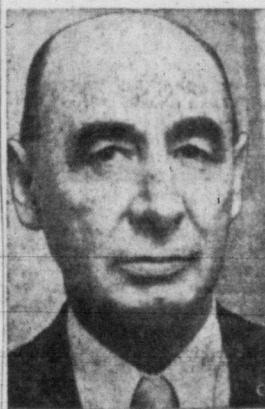

Whether he thinks his party can do it in the Oct. 2 provincial election Mr. Hollett won't say. But he has said he hopes that each of his party's 29 candidates can win.

Mr. Hollett was elected by acclamation, the only PC to be unopposed.

The Progressive Conservatives claim the Smallwood government should be deprived of power for spending $140,000,000 above running expenses during the eight years since Newfoundland entered confederation.

Mr. Hollett first opposed Mr. Smallwood in the national conventions called after the Second World War to decide the future of Newfoundland, then governed by a three-man commission.

"I wasn't fighting against confederation," Mr. Hollett says. "I was fighting against the method for bringing in confederation."

MALCOLM HOLLETT

"We will always be a part of Canada now, we hope," Mr. Hollett says. "and always a part of the British Commonwealth of Nations."

Mr. Hollett has driven vigorous, witty and often bitter criticism at the Liberals across the floor during five spring sessions of the legislature and at several special sessions. The present opposition in the 28-seat house is four Progressive Conservatives and one CCF.

In the Oct. 2 election 36 seats will be at stake, a redistribution bill in 1955 increasing the number of seats by eight.

Cirrhosis of the Liver

Dr. Walter C. Alvarez, in Emeritus Consultation in Medicine, Mayo Clinic and Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation

Hundreds of people ask if there is any treatment for cirrhosis of the liver. Actually, there isn't much treatment because a liver that is cirrhotic (hard and filled with scar tissue) is that way usually because it was once badly injured by an attack of hepatitis or inflammation of the liver. In some cases it may have been injured by hard drinking, or by causes about which we physicians know little.

In order to cure the person the physician would have to rebuild his liver, and this he cannot hope to do with any kind of medicine. Fortunately, many persons with cirrhosis of the liver can live on comfortably for years. They have enough normal liver tissue left so that they can get by without any symptoms. I remember a man who according to tests of liver efficiency, did not have much liver tissue left. I kept seeing him for years afterward, and always he would say, "Don't bother about my liver; I feel wonderfully well." Fortunately, the Good Designer gave each one of us at birth some seven times more liver substance than we would ever need.

Some of us physicians give a diet for cirrhosis, but after reading a hundred or more papers on the subject, I feel as most research workers do, that there isn't any very good reason why anyone should prescribe a diet. I doubt if it has been proved that patients will get well faster on one diet rather than on another. In the army, the conclusion was reached that, for hepatitis, it is best to give the soldier a full nutritious diet.

EARLY CANCER DIAGNOSIS

Recently, Drs. C. R. Hitchcock and J. Bradley Aust, of the University of Minnesota Cancer Detection Clinic, reported that examinations of 6,754 persons revealed that 147 had cancer. Sixty-eight of these 147 had been examined routinely, and had had no reason to suspect illness.

The most important fact brought out by the study was that when cancer of the stomach was operated on before symptoms appeared, 67 per cent of the patients were cured, whereas when the tumor was excised after symptoms appeared, only 20 per cent were cured. Similarly, of 18 persons operated on for a silent cancer of the colon, 95 per cent recovered, whereas of a similar group with cancer of the colon producing symptoms, only 37 per cent recovered.

Years ago, when I made a study of how long a group of physicians with typical symptoms of cancer of the stomach suffered before they consulted a surgeon, I was distressed to find that, on an average, they had waited about a year, which is what laymen with gastric cancer were doing at the time. The Minnesota results now show that if men and women past middle age want to avoid dying of cancer of the digestive tract, they had better have a roentgenologic study made of their stomach and colon, at least once a year.

Educators Dislike High IQ Segregation

WINNIPEG (CP)—Delegates to the Canadian Education Association convention took a critical look Thursday at the treatment of students with a high or low IQ and it stirred up both praise and sharp rebuke.

Major work classes in eight elementary schools in Winnipeg were visited by several of the 50 delegates from 10 provinces attending the meeting.

The classes are designed for above-average students but one woman delegate contended they "make little pigs of the children." Asking that her name not be used, she suggested in an interview the special classes made it difficult for bright students to be with other children into general school activities and play.

In an address to the convention Dr. G. E. Flower of Toronto, director of a CEA education leadership project, said a four-year study in Canada has shown that the school principal—the traditional school bell-ringer who pecks out correspondence on a typewriter and fills out forms—is the neglected man of Canadian education.

He said more training was needed by the principal so he could devote his time to assuring proper instruction of pupils in his school.

EXPERT'S VIEWPOINT

Too Much Detail Work Bogs Down Principals

WINNIPEG (CP)—The school principal is the neglected man in education today, a four-year Canada-wide educational project in education leadership has concluded.

Dr. G. E. Flower of Toronto, director of the project, told the convention of the Canadian Education Association Wednesday the project had disclosed that too many principals were so tied down with administrative and statistical details that they were not doing the job they should be doing.

The project, first educational work done in Canada aimed at changing attitudes of individuals, was conducted by CEA with a grant from the Kellogg Foundation of Battle Creek, Mich.

"The big job of the principal is to make sure that good instruction is given in his school," Dr. Flower said. "His main job is with the teacher... he should help the teacher find the answers to her questions."

Chest X-Ray Foiled Army Draft Dodge

SYDNEY (CP)—In the first case of its kind in Australia, Gordon Douglas Bowen was fined the equivalent of $62.50 for sending his own brother to answer his army call-up notice.

In addition, he will do 140 days of infantry training instead of the usual 90.

The brother, Robert Bruce Bowen, successfully impersonated Gordon for 11 days at Holsworthy national service training camp, Sydney, but the army will not pay him for his period of service.

Gordon said: "Robert offered to do my service for me because my wife is in poor health and our seven-month-old baby is sick. 'Robert looks like me and sounds like me, and he practiced my handwriting for a bit. It wasn't hard for him to be me for a while.'"

Robert said he believed the army woke up to the masquerade because his chest X-ray did not tally with one taken of his brother.

Shutting Out God Is Worst Sin Evangelist Warns Overflow Crowd

By DINAH KERR Times Church Editor

Murder, bigamy and adultery are not the greatest sins man can commit, Tom Rees told an overflow crowd at Christ Church Cathedral Thursday night.

In his fifth day of the Inter-Church Evangelistic Mission, he said, "The biggest sin you can commit is in living an ordinary, average decent life with God shut out."

"If God created us for Him, and He did, and you have closed your ears to Him, then you are trespassing on property (the cathedral) which is not yours." He added gravely: "The wonder of my mind is that God does not wash His hands of us and let us rot and perish in our sins and unbelief."

TWOFOOLD CLAIM

More than 1,300 persons, wedged into every available space in the cathedral, listened quietly as evangelist Rees told them:

"God has a twofold claim on your life. You are His by creation, and now you are His by redemption."

"God has created you through the Son he has redeemed you, and through the Holy Spirit he wants to make you His by possession."

He said it is "very shallow thinking" to reject the idea of the Holy Trinity because it is difficult to understand.

"I don't know what electricity is, but that doesn't mean I go around the house, bruising my shins, and refusing to flick a switch because I don't believe in electricity — because I don't know what it is."

HAS PLAN

"All things were created by Him and for Him. God has a plan for your life, which perhaps only you can fulfill."

Canon George Biddle of St. John's Anglican Church conducted prayers for the evening service.

Rees will speak again in Christ Church Cathedral tonight and Saturday at 8 o'clock.

Sunday, last day of the Inter-Church Evangelistic Mission, he will speak at three meetings—to teenagers at First United Church at 3 p.m., to youth leaders at First Baptist Church at 4:30 p.m., and at a final rally in Memorial Arena at 7:30 p.m.

Hotel Not Liable For Thefts From Guest's Car

TORONTO (CP)—The Ontario Court of Appeal ruled Thursday that a hotel is not liable for its guests' belongings in cars parked next to the hotel.

It was the first ruling on such a matter recorded in Canadian law.

Mr. Justice Roach allowed an appeal by J. Stanley Williams, proprietor of the Chateau Hotel in Cobourg, Ont., and dismissing an action by Thomas George of Oakville, Ont., for $275.

Mr. George said a club bag was taken from his car while it was parked in the hotel parking lot Sept. 13, 1955. The appeal court said the hotel was responsible for the car, but not its contents, while it was parked in the hotel lot.

COUN. LESLIE PASSMORE
... Saanich "must pass sewerage by-law ... the consequences will be serious if it fails."

Saanich Reeve Urges Sewer By-Law Backing

An appeal to Saanich ratepayers to support an $850,000 sewerage by-law for completion of the 80-mile sewerage project initiated in 1951, was made by Reeve Arthur Ash today.

The appeal follows passage of the by-law by Saanich Council Wednesday. It will be submitted to the electorate for approval on Oct. 27.

The by-law calls for the sale of an $850,000 debenture issue at 5 per cent interest to be paid over a period of 24 years.

Reeve Ash said passage of the by-law was essential for the development of the municipality and should be supported by every citizen.

"Council has done all that is humanly possible to prevent a further deficit," he said. "Cost to complete the project has been checked and double-checked to ensure its completion."

The by-law states that the new debt will only be borne by residents in the sewerage area. All ratepayers, however, will have the right to vote on the by-law.

Passage of the by-law will mean tax increases in the sewerage area ranging from $7.75 to $11.63 per lot.

That is a 30-foot lot now paying $15 a year will pay $22.75. The tax rate for a maximum 75-foot lot will increase from $22.50 to $34.13.

On the other hand, serious tax increases face residents in the sewerage area if the by-law is turned down by ratepayers.

According to the municipal solicitor, council might be obliged to take the following steps if the by-law is defeated.

1. Re-define the sewerage area to include only the district where the sewerage system has been installed.

2. Impose the entire original $2,100,000 debt on ratepayers in the re-defined sewerage district. That is residents serviced by the system would have to assume the debt.

3. Refund residents who have been paying towards the project but are not serviced by the system. This money would also have to be charged against residents in the re-defined sewerage district.

Councillor Leslie Passmore, chairman of the sewerage committee, said council will have to explain the situation fully to ratepayers through the medium of public meetings, radio and newspapers.

"We must see that this by-law passes," he said. "The people must be made to realize how serious the consequences will be if the by-law fails."

Gadget Ends Miseries of Cuke Harvest

CHATHAM, Ont. (CP)—The back-breaking job of cucumber picking has been eased for workers on the farm of Omer Cartier near here.

The "pickle picker" devised by Mr. Cartier allows six workers to sit in comfort while they are drawn along the field.

Basically the invention is a tractor with a long steel frame-work along the back. From the frame six plywood seats are hung on steel straps. The seats are within a few inches of the ground and those picking can easily reach the cucumber vines. The seats are spaced along the well as extras.

The tractor-driven contraption (AP)—Jerry Morrison, 15-year-old Walnut Springs High School Each perch also has space for a ers picking cucumbers within halfback, died during a football reach of the hand. Each picker game Thursday night. He was found unconscious after the first few scrimmages.

Special Jail Constructed For 1 Woman

CANBERRA (CP)—Australian works department carpenters had to work around the clock at Port Moresby, New Guinea, to build one woman a special jail.

The woman, Miss Patricia Robertson, a government telegraphist, was sentenced to three months' jail for disclosing the contents of an official telegram to a newspaper representative.

Officials were faced with a problem in housing her, because New Guinea's Bomana jail, 10 miles from Port Moresby, has accommodation for only native prisoners and a small number of European males.

However, the carpenters built Miss Robertson a small bedroom, sitting room and bathroom at Bomana. The unit will be simply furnished and will be enclosed by a wire fence.

In the meantime Miss Robertson stayed as a "guest" at the home of the jailer.

Five separate engineering features protect against interference no matter how it originates. Another, automatically builds up even the weakest signal, while two more eliminate the prime cause of picture jitter.

Small Army Works On New Pulp Mill

Great Activity at Crofton as Work Speeds on New $38 Million Plant

CROFTON—Materials, men and machines are moving into this area at an ever-increasing rate these days as work on the B.C. Forest Products $38,000,000 pulp mill increases in tempo.

Scene of concentrated activity is some 300 acres of land at Osborn Bay.

Over 400,000 cubic yards of earth were excavated to prepare for the construction of the pulp mill and it is here, in what was little more than a yawning hole in the ground three months ago, that 500 men are at work.

General contractor for the pulp mill is Commonwealth Construction Co. of Vancouver. Some of the sub-contractors include Windsor Construction Co., Vancouver Pile Driving, Western Reinforcing Steel Services, Williams Electric, and D. Robinson Construction Ltd.

Work on the project is going ahead at a precise, planned pace according to resident engineer R. R. ("Bob") Smith of H. A. Simons Ltd., the Vancouver firm that designed the pulp mill. Already a bare outline of the finished project can be seen as a few of the more than 25 component parts that will make up the project start to take shape.

Temporary administrative buildings are located in the centre of all the activity.

While the pulp mill site is a hive of concentrated activity, the company's five large bunkhouses, cafeteria and recreation hall on the Osborn Bay Road at the approach to the project site comprise a small village in themselves.

About 200 men are now living in the bunkhouses and eating in the cafeteria. When filled the bunkhouses will hold about 750 men. Bunkhouses are expected to be filled next year when between 1,200 and 1,500 men will be employed on the project at the peak of construction.

INDIA'S FIRST SECRETARY

Housework Bores Woman Diplomat

OTTAWA (CP) — A diminutive diplomat has become India's First Secretary here, "first woman to hold this high post in the capital's diplomatic corps."

Mrs. Kamala Shastri, 33, arrived to begin her new job as senior assistant to India's high commissioner, Dr. M. A. Rauf.

A petite, vivacious woman—she stands five feet, one inch—Mrs. Shastri joins a handful of women diplomats here.

She is firmly wedded to the diplomatic profession, she told a reporter.

Her country has several women diplomats, including Madam Pandit, an internationally esteemed figure who in 1954 became the first woman president of the United Nations General Assembly. She is also India's high commissioner in London.

WELL-TRAINED

Mrs. Shastri, a graduate of the University of Lucknow in English, literature and law, has been a diplomat for eight years.

An interest in travel and international relations led her into the diplomatic field, she said.

Prior to the Canadian appointment, she spent a year in Germany and more than four years in the United Kingdom.

Married in London last year, her husband works with the United Nations in New York—she also studied at the London School of Economics during her stay in the British capital.

Now, settling down to her work in the political and administrative branches of the high commissioner's office, she finds her problems are domestic, rather than diplomatic.

The Indian furnishings for her Ottawa home haven't arrived from Germany, nor her housekeeper from India, so she is doing her own housekeeping.

She loves cooking, particularly when it comes to preparing Indian dishes. "But I don't care as much for housework," she admitted with a smile.

She also likes reading and Indian music and dancing. Gardening and writing short stories were once favorite pastimes, but she finds them both too time-consuming to fit into a diplomat's day.

Sikhs Disown CCF's Grewall For Tussle With Premier

VANCOUVER (CP) — The East Indian community of British Columbia has condemned CCF candidate Naranjan Singh Grewall "for his behavior" at a Social Credit election campaign meeting addressed by Premier Bennett.

A spokesman for the Akali Singh Sikh Temple here said Thursday the Indian community has "completely dissociated itself with the behavior" of Mr. Grewall who was defeated in the Dewdney riding by Lyle Wicks, minister of labor and railways.

Ban on Russ Considered By Chess Club

OTTAWA (CP) — The status of Soviet diplomats at Ottawa's Civil Service Chess Club, where the Popov case of attempted espionage began, remains a secret.

The club's nine-member management committee, meeting Thursday night to consider whether to bar Russians, made its decision but agreed to keep it secret.

Instead, the issue was handed over to a meeting next week of the club's parent body, the Civil Service Recreation Association, which administers chess and several dozen other off-hour activities for government employees. The association will study a proposal to ban members of all diplomatic missions from its activities—thus keeping the Reds out without giving cause for complaints of discrimination.

The chess club was the place where James Stanley Staples, former RCAF civilian clerk, said Soviet diplomat Gennadi F. Popov, struck up a friendship with him and tried to get secret information.

Popov, embassy second secretary, was ordered July 12 to leave Canada for improper activities. He left Aug. 12.

SCALES DON'T LIE? THEY DID TO CHAPLIN

Jim Chaplin's penchant for accuracy paid off in a big way Thursday.

Jim hooked a thumping big hook-nosed coho off William Head Thursday morning on a herring rig tied to his light spinning gear. He took it into a store where a set of bathroom scales said it weighed 21 pounds.

But, as he was entering the fish in a contest and wanted to be certain of the weight, Jim took his catch to a butcher store where the more accurate scales read the fish off at 22 pounds, eight ounces.

SPRINT FEATURE

Times Handicap Draws Top Field

The Times Handicap over the sprint distance of three-quarters of a mile will be the feature of the second to last day of the current racing program at Sandown Park.

The event has drawn a nomination of eight sprinters, including Beau Sierra, winner of the Percy Fox Memorial Trophy race on Wednesday over the mile and 70-yard route.

Others nominated are the highly regarded Simmonsworth, yet to run its best race here; Tui-Lyke, Arden Drive, Freddie the Fox, Arliss, Miss Colleen, holder of the track record for the six-furlong distance, and Tip the Cap.

Seven other races are scheduled. Racing will conclude at the suburban track near Sidney on Monday, with the final day feature being the Hotelmen's Handicap over the two-mile route.

Most races Thursday were evenly contested and evenly won.

12-1 SHOT

Longest price of the day came in the second race when Moon Image, a 12-1 shot, came from far back to win the mile and 70-yard event by a head from Riskshot and return $25 for a $2 ticket. Quinella payoff was $20.60.

Shortest price was returned by Bigun in the seventh race, the seven-year-old brown gelding nipping Zee Tee at the wire. A win ticket on Bigun was worth $7 and the quinella $9.90.

Lord Glenlivet captured his second victory of the meeting in the third; Flying Abbey repeated with a head winner over front-running Arden Hope in the fifth; No Alarm scored in the first, and Ardell, at surprisingly good odds, captured the sixth over the mile and 70-yard distance.

Ardell, improving every out, made every post a winner and returned $12.10. Some Doings also hit double figures by taking the fifth race with favored Sun Boy a distant fifth.

Post time Saturday is 1:45 p.m. Thursday's official form chart is on page 12.

Babe's Loss Mourned ---Inspiration to All

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — The world of sports mourned today the death of Babe Didrikson Zaharias, the greatest woman athlete of the 20th century and possibly of all time. Telegrams and notes of sympathy poured in by the untold hundreds to big George Zaharias, the one-time professional wrestler who rarely left his wife's bedside during the last days of her stubborn, heart-breaking fight against the deadly cancer that finished a career of astonishing brilliance.

Harry Moffitt, president of the Professional Golfers Association of America wired: "Our entire association deeply regrets the passing of your beloved Babe. She was a great sportsman and golfer. Former golfing great Bobby Jones wired: 'The entire sports world will want to share your sorrow. The Babe was a wonderful person whose gallantry shone in everything she did. Her life and the wonderful comradeship you two enjoyed has been an inspiration everywhere.'"

Dr. G. A. W. Currie, administrator of John Sealy Hospital, where Babe ended her fight against cancer, said:

"She was a great person, not only as an outstanding athlete, but as an individual, and there is no doubt that she was one of the best patients any hospital ever had."

Seattle Americans Strong in Numbers

SEATTLE — Freshman coach Keith Allen of the Western Hockey League's Seattle Americans is relaxing just a little bit as this week comes to a close. Just a bit, though.

Opening his Amerks' training camp Monday at Civic Ice Arena, and with a dearth of proven performers on hand, Allen, last year with Brandon in the WHL, was told to have a team ready for an exhibition game with Vancouver Canucks Saturday night.

The game has been cancelled however, as all concerned felt that both teams would not be in proper shape.

So Allen has until Oct. 4, when the Americans meet the Winnipeg Warriors in the first of a three-game exhibition set in Phoenix, Arizona, of all places.

Allen had 30 performers on hand Monday when the drills started, most of them rookies trying to catch a spot. This number will be cut in half by next week, and a number of holdovers are checking in and looking good, so Allen is breathing easier.

Americans open their league schedule at New Westminster Oct. 9, and play their first home game Oct. 10, also against the Royals.

will take turns on defence with Allen and Gordy Sinclair.

Looking good up front are Guyle Fielder, Val Fonteyne, top rookie on the club last year, Barton Bradley, Alex Kuzma, Rudy Filion and newcomer George Senick.

In goal will be Emile (The Cat) Francis, last year with the now-defunct Saskatoon Quakers.

Arriving this weekend from the Detroit Red Wings' training camp to bolster Allen's lineup will be Ray Kinasevich, who put in a good rookie year with Edmonton last season; Jack McCarthy and Bruce Lea, all forwards.

Jerry Penner and Harry Smith of Trail are two rookies given good chances to catch on.

Status of fiery Eddie Dorohoy is still not clear. Eddie wants to play for his home-town Victoria Cougars, but has yet reached no agreement with the Amerks' brass.

Americans open their league schedule at New Westminster Oct. 9, and play their first home game Oct. 10, also against the Royals.

FISH DIDN'T HAVE A CHANCE

former basketball stars George Straith and Norm Baker hit the coho jackpot off Qualicum and ensured themselves of plenty of salmon steaks during the winter. (Van Isle Photo Service.)

Pirie, Leaves England

LONDON (AP) — Gordon Pirie, a great runner and an enthusiastic talker, boarded his emigration plane Thursday night, still taking flight. "Britain is a country overburdened by taxation," he said.

"I'm leaving for a number of reasons—but that's the main one. But it's heart-breaking to leave all my friends."

Pirie, holder of the world 3,000 and 5,000-metre records, plans to settle in New Zealand but will run for Britain in the Melbourne Olympics.

His lone-wolf training methods and outspoken comments on track and field, and the world in general have brought him frequent criticism during his six years at the top. But he still keeps busting those records and London sports writers rate him Britain's best prospect for a gold medal at Melbourne.

Pirie was married Monday to Shirley Hampton, a sprinter on Britain's Olympic squad. She will travel out to Australia with the main body of the British team next month.

Brooks Need Help In NL Flag Fight

Can't Catch Braves Alone

By The Associated Press

The fans can forget those past 151 games in the National League season. It's Milwaukee at St. Louis for three, Pittsburgh at Brooklyn for three—and all of them, or any one of them could decide the pennant.

Milwaukee Braves, holding the lead by one game, need a sweep against the Cards to nail the flag without worrying about what Brooklyn does.

"It's Bob Buhl tonight, Warren Spahn tomorrow night," says Milwaukee manager Fred Haney, "and the whole darn bunch on Sunday!"

The Dodgers, supremely confident all season that they would catch the Braves and repeat as champions, no longer can do it alone. The best they can do is sweep the series against the Pirates and hope St. Louis can take at least one from the Braves. That would leave it a tie—calling for a best-of-three playoff beginning Monday in Brooklyn.

ALSTON NEEDS HELP

Manager Walt Alston sees his Dodge chances like this: "We've got to have help. If the Cards win one, we'll be all right. We haven't any reason to give up yet." But he added:

"I'm not worried about the Cardinals easing up. The thing that worries me is that we've looked pretty lousy lately."

"Lousy" describes a 2-4 record in the last six games—a slump that dumped the Brooks out of lead and left the race like this:

Cincinnati's chance are more than slim. The Redlegs, fooling everyone and even themselves by hanging on this long, need a sweep of their two games with Chicago beginning tomorrow, and three Milwaukee defeats at least two Brooklyn defeats to gain a tie.

The Braves, a 1-3 favorite to take the flag although the same money man will lay you 12 to 5 they don't, have picked Buhl, not effective of late, and Spahn, a 20-game winner, over Lew Burdette and the youngsters.

Clem Crowe, Lions' coach, announced the signings. He said Bob Hanla, 24-year-old offensive and defensive end with the San Francisco 49ers, will replace Rommie Lound who was injured Monday in a game here against Edmonton Eskimos. The other players is Fred Robinson, 26, a tackle with the Cleveland Browns.

Tracy Dropped By 'Riders

OTTAWA (CP) — Tom "The Bomb" Tracy, apparently lacking power he showed last year, has been dropped by the Ottawa Rough Riders.

Couch Frank Clair, who gave Tracy a final chance last Saturday to prove himself, announced Thursday night the fullback is available to other Big Four teams for the $750 waiver price.

Tracy, a former University of Tennessee star, has missed most of Ottawa's games so far this fall with a knee injury.

Pen Oracle Scores

SPOKANE (AP) — Canadian-bred Pen Oracle made his first appearance a stirring one Thursday as he came from far back to win the featured $900 Harrington purse by half a length. Flecha was second and Vegas Buck third.

The winner, ridden by Jack Arterburn, paid $6.40, $4.20 and $3.70.

Shoddy Pitching Yank Problem

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK (UP) — The New York Yankees aren't too content as they await the outcome of the National League pennant race today because their pitching is wobbling and their series fate may rest in the hands of a one-time castoff and a perennial doghouse inhabitant.

The Yankees, who still figure to be the series favorite, were shaken up a bit when Whitey Ford hurt his back. On top of that, Tom Sturdivant and Johnny Kucks have not been too effective of late.

Which could place a terrific load on Tommy Byrne, once a wanderer of the baseball wastelands, and towering Don Larsen, a modern tinypoint of the unpredictable Rube Waddell.

Ford, if he can move his arm, undoubtedly will get the first game call because he is the Yankees' money pitcher. Sturdivant and Kucks will get their share of work, too, but you can't get away from recent statistics.

Pitching coach Jim Turner denies that the American League hitters have seen enough of them and have "caught on" to what they're tossing. Maybe he should wish that this was the case. Otherwise, the National League opponent may make merry against two tossers who have lost the big touch.

If that's the case, and Ford's back doesn't come around as it should, Larsen and Byrne may be the two most overworked pitchers in the series.

THE OUTDOORS

It has become increasingly clear over the past few hunting seasons that there is a growing shortage of non-migratory wildfowl.

Much capital has been made to the opposite effect in periodicals of the "Field and Stream" variety by supposedly informed persons, but on every occasion statistics have put the lie to them.

How much serious thought has been given to the subject by local nimrods is a matter for conjecture. There is no doubt, however, that a great deal more serious thought should be given to the subject.

We are the victims of evolution and our own foolishness — the first uncontrollable and the second possible of solution. Let us examine the historical bases of the problem.

Previous to the Norman Conquest, the Englishman was truly master of his own domain. English Common Law decreed that it was the right of every man to hunt in his own fields, woods or manor regardless of mating seasons and depending simply on availability. He was also responsible for the maintenance of this sport, and as a result developed conservation sense.

The Normans changed all this, and put the right to harvest game in the hands of the French king and his favored noblemen; the death penalty being applied to lawbreakers.

This arbitrary and inequitable repossession was eventually incorporated into the statutes of the country, to the effect that the Crown had an inalienable right to the disposition of all wildlife, whether on private land or not.

Average Man Deprived of Game

The average man therefore, was deprived of the right to hunt game, and in Britain today hunting is largely found on the estates of the landed gentry.

New World emigration, however, created an entirely different situation, and you had the manifold ease of the poor emigrant, long oppressed by Europe's stringent game laws and without his forebears' understanding of conservation, suddenly confronted by game in such abundance that even today their population has not been accurately estimated.

The inevitable happened, and for a period of 250 years this continent witnessed the most fearful slaughter of wildlife the world has ever seen. In succession the Great Auk, Heath Hen and Labrador Duck passed to extinction, while the Buffalo, Antelope and Trumpeter Swan were vastly reduced in numbers.

It was not until the early 20th century that really effective conservation measures were implemented—vigorously encouraged by a few far-sighted naturalists who could clearly see the vision of impending disaster.

Nevertheless a great deal of harm had been done, and the situation has been aggravated during the past 25 years by an ever increasing number of hunters.

What Is the Answer to the Problem?

Barring a vast increase in government appropriation for the game department, what is the answer to the problem?

One answer may be found in the increasing employment of the game club—no matter how repugnant we may find the idea of such a closed-membership organization.

A simple definition of such a club would be a group of hunters, banded together for the purpose of buying or leasing land and stocking such land with birds.

The members would be responsible for the feeding and protection of the game from predators—a harvest being made of the birds at the appropriate time considering seasons and the number of the birds of suitable size.

The real advantage of this idea (as discovered by the English sportsman) from the point of view of the conservationist, is that the maintenance of the wildlife is left to the person most directly concerned, and the likelihood of a sustained yield is much greater than it would be under government control.

Such an experiment has been carried out in Denmark, and its game have returned from a point of near extinction to a well established, sustained yield basis.

Whatever the case the next few years will see a gradual reduction of the number of non-migratory birds—barring drastic action by either the game department or the hunter himself.

IN BRIEF—Thirteen-year-old Johnny Waring doesn't let anything, including meals, stand in his way when there are fish to be caught. Young Johnny, who lives at Waring Place, was sitting down to dinner one day this month when he looked out the dining room window and saw a fish break water while chasing feed on the surface close to the Waring home. Dropping his knife and fork, Johnny tore out of the house, untied his kayak, and in a matter of minutes had an 8½-pound coho in his net. . . . Out around Ten Mile Point and Chatham Island everyone is taking grise, but few springs or coho are being hooked off Oak Bay while scattered springs and coho are reported off Brodie Ledge. . . . Hall's Boathouse reports that Bill Lewis took an 11-pound three-ounce spring in the Goldstream Narrows this week on a 4½ Tom Mack.

Pop Ivy Picks Riders

EDMONTON (CP) — Coach Frank (Pop) Ivy said Wednesday night that unless his Eskimo team can defeat Saskatchewan Roughriders in Edmonton Monday night, he doubts if the Riders will lose another game in the Western Interprovincial Football Union regular schedule this season.

"The next game is the big one," he said. "After that the much-improved Regina team has the best of the schedule and could win all its games the rest of the way."

GOES TO TIGCATS

HAMILTON (CP) — Tony Curello, 205-pound quarterback and halfback, joined Hamilton Tiger-Cats Thursday in a deal between the Big Four club and Chicago Cardinals of the National Football League.

RONNIE OUT FOR CERTAIN

HAMILTON, Ont. (CP) — An official of Hamilton Tiger-Cats confirmed Thursday night that Ronnie Knox is finished with the Big Four football club.

Ronnie is "definitely" out, the official said, adding that he "just left the team—that's all there is to it."

TIME OUT! JEFF KEATS

"Well, this race is certainly a flop! $100,000 at stake and all eight horses finish in a dead heat!"

Olympic Boxers Nominated

MONTREAL (CP) — Les Mason, 22-year-old army sergeant, today became Canada's No. 1 boxer for the Olympic Games and it is doubtful if there could be any argument over the choice — not even from Mickey Bergin of Montreal.

The experienced Bergin, who won for Canada at the British Empire Games two years ago, took a sound beating at the hands of the 139-pound army man from Stellarton, N.S., in Thursday night's winnow to the Canadian amateur boxing championships and Olympic trials.

Immediately after the show the national boxing committee of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada went into closed session and emerged in the early morning hours with its recommendations for the Canadian team.

Six were chosen, in conformity with six boxing places allotted by the Canadian Olympic Association.

In addition to Mason, in the 139-pound division, others chosen in order of merit were: Ralph Hosack, Edmonton, 165; Eddie Beatty, Hamilton, 132; Walter Kozak, Edmonton, 147; Gerry Collins, Montreal, 178; Jim Montgomery, Montreal, 156.

In addition to the Olympic choices, the 1936 Canadian amateur champions are: Kai Yip, Leithbridge, Alta., 112; Gerald Vanstone, Canadian Army, Sydney, N.S., 119; Ronnie Paulsen, Edmonton, 125, and Robert Cleroux, Montreal, heavyweight.

RIGGIN FLYER GOALIE

DETROIT (CP) — Dennis Riggins, 20, the Kincardine, Ont. goalie on whom the Red Wings have had strings since he was 12, has won the job with Detroit's No. 1 farm club, Edmonton Flyers.

GRID RACES CRUCIAL

Riders Gun For WIFU Lead

By The Canadian Press

Three clubs—Saskatchewan, Winnipeg and British Columbia—could do themselves a lot of good with double victories in weekend Western Interprovincial Football Union action.

Frank Filchok's Saskatchewan Roughriders could advance into a first-place tie with Edmonton Eskimos by defeating British Columbia Lions in Regina Saturday and Esks in the Alberta capital Monday night.

In the Big Four, weekend action will answer two questions:

Can Ottawa Rough Riders repeat their upset win over Toronto Argonauts; and can a weakened Hamilton Tiger-Cat squad prevent a repetition of last week's drubbing by Montreal Alouettes?

HAMILTON SHORT TWO

Montreal's 56-14 win over the Ticats consolidated the Als' hold on first place and Hamilton, tied with Toronto and Ottawa at six points, four behind Montreal, don't look able to improve their situation at home Saturday, especially without quarterback Ronnie Knox and linebacker Hardy Brown.

Ottawa was a two-touchdown underdog going into Varsity Stadium last Saturday and will be hoping spirit and determination can win for them again Saturday at home in Lansdowne Park.

The Winnipeg Blue Bombers, beaten at home 24-7 by Riders last Saturday, could ensure themselves of staying in the race for a WIFU playoff spot with wins over the last-place Stampede in Calgary Saturday night and over the Lions in Winnipeg Monday night.

Meanwhile, Edmonton, comfortable in first place with a four-point lead over Saskatchewan, are idle Saturday and probably are hoping the other clubs will knock themselves out scrambling for one of the three playoff berths.

And a playoff spot is not beyond a possibility for the last-place Stamps. Calgary lost several close ones in early-season play and the 52-0 loss absorbed from Esks in Edmonton last Saturday is not regarded as any indication of their ability.

Calgary will be playing their first under new coach Otis Douglas at home Saturday night.

LANDY 'SORE'

MELBOURNE (AP) — Strained achilles tendons in both feet may cause John Landy, the world's record miler, to miss the first Australian Olympic trials, two weeks away.

Landy said he might run on grass at Mornington next Sunday. But he cannot run on a cinder track. He added that he "jogged" a few laps on the cinders this week and his legs were very sore afterwards.

MAN, WIFE INJURED

Small Car Halts Inches From Ravine

Their small English car halted inches before a 30-foot plunge. Mr. and Mrs. John W. Hobson, Shool Harbor, Sidney, escaped serious injury Thursday at 1:50 p.m. when the car went out of control near a ravine on Quadra Street in Saanich.

Both were admitted to hospital—Mr. Hobson, 75, to DVA Hospital for treatment of neck injury, and Mrs. Hobson, 62, to St. Joseph's with head injuries and shock. They were reported in good condition this morning. Saanich police said the car apparently went out of control between Inverness and Cloverdale school, partially turning over on a guard rail, righted itself and mounted the rail before coming to a halt with the right front wheel hanging over the ravine.

Damage to the auto was extensive, including a crushed top, smashed right front window and fender, broken rear axle and one tire blown out.

Russian Ballet Group to Perform in London Despite Controversy Over Nina and Hats

MOSCOW (Reuters)—The Bolshoi Theatre ballet group will leave for London shortly to play its season at Covent Garden as arranged, the Russian minister of culture announced today.

The company's visit, first ever outside Russia, had been cancelled as a result of the arrest in London of discus thrower Nina Ponomareva for the theft of five hats worth $4,671 from a department store a month ago. The British government has refused to interfere with the courts on the case. Today's statement by the minister of culture said:

Victoria Daily Times FRIDAY, SEPT. 28, 1956 13

"Guided by the desire to assist in every way the successful development of cultural ties between the peoples of Great Britain and the Soviet Union, the ministry of culture and the directorship of the Bolshoi Theatre have found it possible, after consultations with the members of the Bolshoi Theatre, to meet desires of British Public. The ballet company of the theatre will leave for a guest performance in London in the next few days. Nina failed to show up in court for a hearing on the case and has since been reported hiding out in the Russian embassy in London.

Near-Riot at UBC Over Hazing Tactics

(From CP Dispatches)

VANCOUVER — University of British Columbia freshmen and senior engineering students tangled Thursday in a near-riot when the freshmen undertook to retaliate against hazing they received from the seniors Wednesday.

A group of 300 freshmen stormed the engineering building during the lunch-hour break, shouting and battling their way through a wall of water from high-pressure fire hoses, played on them by the seniors inside the building.

Many students started fist fights in the general skirmish which followed and others dragged fellow students from the water-soaked building to dunk them in the campus lily pond. During the original hazing, seniors had dunked freshmen in the pond.

A spokesman for the university said later no one was injured and the skirmish ended when classes reconvened at 2:30, leaving only squads of students to mop up the water and mud. He said both seniors and freshmen seemed ready for the battle, a regular annual affair, as most of them had come to classes dressed in old clothes.

KELOWNA — Harvesting of the McIntosh apple crop will be completed by this weekend, and growers now are focusing their attention on picking Delicious and D'Anjou pears. It is hoped the entire apple and pear crop will be under cover within the next two or three weeks.

The majority of high school students have returned to classrooms. At the peak of harvesting operations, almost 1,000 students from the central Okanagan were working in the orchards.

Underground Parking Lot For Ottawa Square

OTTAWA (CP)—Ottawa is considering plans for a parking lot under Confederation Square.

The scheme is to reduce traffic congestion around the National War Memorial, which sits in the centre of the square and is the nucleus of the Capital.

Six main streets converge on the square, which is flanked by Parliament Hill, the Chateau Laurier and Union Station.

Resulting traffic has led Ottawans to label it "Confusion Square."

Plans being considered by civic and federal authorities call for a 250-car underground lot. Cost is estimated at $500,000.

JAMES DEAN NOT THE FIRST

Raving Over Dead Movie Stars Nothing New Around Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A year ago this week James Dean's life was snuffed out on the highway, ending at 24 what promised to be a notable acting career.

The posthumous cult for Dean has not been equalled in film history. The reasons have been expounded in endless magazine and news articles—the identification of today's youth with Dean's film portrayals and his own mixed-up life, etc.

But I believe a prime factor is also the sentiment aroused because a star died before fulfilling his promise. In that Dean was not unique. History has often repeated the tragedy of stars who were erased from the film scene by sickness, suicide or sudden death before the prime of life.

Wallace Reid comes to mind. He won overnight fame for a fight scene in "Birth of a Nation" and starred in picture after picture, usually as the all-American boy. When he fell ill in 1922, his studio explained it was a case of "over-work."

But the ugly truth came out: Wally Reid had become a morphine addict. His wasted body gave up life on Jan. 18, 1923, and the scandal rocked the film industry to its foundations. A friend said: "Wally did more in his 31 years than a dozen actors could do in a lifetime."

The greatest after-death cult of a film star before Dean was that of Rudolph Valentino. A superbly handsome Italian immigrant, whose real name was Rodolfo Guglielmi, he enjoyed five years of fame as the great Latin lover of the screen. He died at 31 on Aug. 23, 1926, of complications following a stomach ulcer operation. But, as with Dean, his legend lives on.

MOVIE WORLD

NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (NEA)—Hollywoodites are talking about: Roy Rogers, Dale Evans and their rodeo troupe collecting $95,327 for a five-day appearance at the Ohio State Fair. Every time Roy and Trigger ride into the sunset they're on their way to the bank.

Hollywood's latest definition of a wolf—a fellow who believes in life, liberty and the happiness of pursuit... Jane Russell and hubby Bob Waterfield telling pals they plan to adopt another child—their fourth.

THE FRIARS CLUB honoring Jack Benny with a $100-a-plate testimonial dinner Oct. 20. No, Jack won't share in the profits. It's for sweet charity work.

Those double takes in a Hollywood night club—Susan Hayward, in the audience, listening to the singing of Lillian Roth, the gal she played in "Till They Come Tomorrow."

Marguerite Chapman resuming her film career. She quit the movie houses to sell houses as a Palm Springs real estate broker... Rita Hayworth picking up the role of Sheba in "Solomon and Sheba."

The latest in plastics—pop snow for movie blizzards. It's nontoxic, odorless and free from eye-irritating dust.

PARAMOUNT shelving "Teacher's Pet," the Clark Gable film, until next spring so Doris Day can co-star with him. Her next is "Pajama Game."

Joe E. Lewis-telling night club audiences why he will not appear in his film biography, "The Joker Is Wild."

"I couldn't go through it again—I was lucky to get this far the first time."

Maurice Chevalier shelving his famous trademark—that straw hat—for the first time in the movie, "Love in the Afternoon." He's co-starring in the comedy with Gary Cooper and Audrey Hepburn. He'll wear a bowler—derby, to you.

That sign on a bicycle Eddie Fisher rides around the RKO lot—"Boy Singer." Debbie Reynolds paid the sign painter.

Hollywood back to school note: Writer Mac Bennett's son, Mitchell, went to school and boasted that his dad wrote the Danny Thomas TV show.

"That's nothing," spoke up one of the kids, "my father is Danny Thomas."

This superb British comedy has been compared to "The Lavender Hill Mob," "Doctor in the House," "Genevieve" and others of that standard. It is a natural vehicle for the stars who play the parts of a "man-and-wife" team go a B.B.C. television serial program while "off-stage" they have their own domestic battles and problems to fight out. Diana Dors Homesick, Going Home

LONDON (AP)—Diana Dors, bosomy, blonde actress whose four-month Hollywood career has spanned two pictures and one dunking in her own swimming pool, is returning to Britain.

The reason, says her husband, Dennis Hamilton: She is "so terribly homesick."

Miss Dors and her husband splashed into the headlines Aug. 20 when they were pushed into a swimming pool during a party at their luxurious Hollywood home.

Men of the RCMP's famed "musical ride" are all about the same weight and height—160 pounds; five feet, 11 inches.

A guy so talented, that soon an entire nation was dancing—and making love—to "music by Dorchin!"

Martha Raye Collapses in Club, Second Blackout in Six Weeks

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Martha Raye, the singer and comedienne of many ups and downs, collapsed in a night club Thursday night in the midst of the song that has become almost her trademark—"That Old Black Magic."

As she hit the line "down and down I go," she crumpled to the stage at the Latin Casino. Back stage hands carried her to her dressing room and a doctor was called.

Members of her staff said Miss Raye revived before the doctor's arrival and insisted on going back on the stage.

"Sure, I feel fine again," she was quoted as saying. "It was just one of those things, a momentary blackout, and it's all over now."

Six weeks ago in Miami Miss Raye was treated for what was reported as an overdose of sleeping tablets. Afterward she continued work in Miami and filled a date in Las Vegas, Nev.

BETWEEN TIMES By MONTE ROBERTS

I have been asked to tell all I know about the Community Chest.

Fortunately, I do not know much about the Community Chest.

I can only presume "Community" means a bunch of people, and my only knowledge of "Chest" is the part of my anatomy which enables me to breathe.

So I guess "Community Chest" means a bunch of people breathing.

This is, no doubt, a splendid idea, but doesn't help me much in telling all I know about the Community Chest, because, fortunately, I do not know much about the Community Chest.

Fortunately, I have never been released from jail, with nowhere to go, and no counsel to seek, other than the John Howard Society.

Fortunately, I have never been crippled by arthritis and have never received treatment through the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society.

Fortunately, I haven't needed a visit from a VON nurse.

Fortunately, I don't know anything about the Community Chest Christmas Bureau which took care of 262 children and 214 adults last Yuletide.

Fortunately, I have had no contact with the Sunshine Camp at Saseeno, where elderly people, blind people, and others who can't plan their own holiday have a fresh-air type vacation.

Fortunately, I've never keeled over at a public function and received resuscitation from the St. John Ambulance Brigade.

Fortunately, I've never been an unmarried mother, and had to depend on the Family and Children's Service.

Fortunately, I know nothing whatsoever about 12 other organizations which receive financial support from the Community Chest.

So I guess I am a very fortunate fellow.

I hope you, too, know as little about the Community Chest as I do.

And that you're never in a position to need Community Chest help.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES

Saanich council Thursday passed a by-law requiring all retail butcher shops to close their doors at 6 p.m. during five days of a week. On Wednesday the shops will close at 1 p.m.

The new by-law becomes effective on Oct. 9. It includes a penalty of $100 for any one found guilty of breaking the provisions of the law.

Mrs. Robert Little, 73-year-old widow of Archdeacon Robert Little, who died Tuesday after a truck-car crash in Colwood, was reported in good condition in St. Joseph's Hospital today.

She received head injury in the wreck and was at first described as "serious."

First sitting of an inquest into the fatality identified the body this morning. Evidence will be given at a date to be set next month.

Lack of interest in registering for the Victoria city voters' list was reported by officials at Victoria city hall today.

Only 36 additional names have been added to the list although it has been open to additions for a month. Final date for inclusion of any name is October 21, at 5 p.m.

Entitled to register are all new householders, new licensees and persons newly falling into the class of husbands or wives of property holders—spouses, according to legal terminology. New property-holders in the city will go on the list automatically.

TRAFFIC FINES

Convicted and fined in city police court today for traffic offences were:

Percy William Miller, 1051 Princess, $35 and licence suspension for careless driving resulting in collision.

Kenneth Thompson, RCAF Station Comox, $40 and licence suspension for careless driving resulting in collision causing total $650 damage and hospital treatment for two passengers.

William M. Richardson, Keating Crossroad, $15 for failing to stop when a cross-walk was occupied.

James Ward, Gillespie Road, $15 for failure to yield right-of-way to a pedestrian in a cross-walk.

DEPUTY MINISTER OF EDUCATION FOR B.C., Dr. T. Boulanger, has been elected vice-president of the Canadian Education Association in convention at Winnipeg.

Dr. Boulanger, director of studies for the Catholic School Commission in Montreal, was named president.

Shopping Courtesy Applies To Shopper and Clerks

By PENNY SAVER

PLEASE DON'T SQUEEZE THE PEACHES.
That's what the proprietors of the fruit store wrote on the sign, and can you blame them? How many times have you done it yourself, only to frown when you come across fruit bruised from other people doing the same thing? You can see that these luscious-looking peaches are fresh and juicy, and they're yours at five for 25 cents. Not only can you buy peaches, but all kinds of fruit and vegetables for a quarter. This seems to be a popular price.

For a quarter you can buy a globe artichoke, a frothy white cauliflower, three bunches of tender young beets, six cobs of yellow corn or a pound of green beans.

Another popular price put on things is 29 cents. For this sum you may purchase a pound of leafy green Brussels sprouts, two pounds of spinach, two bunches of tender parsnips or two pounds of large Tokay grapes.

In the grape display I also saw large sweet muscats at 28 cents a pound, and ladyfinger grapes at the same price. Green seedless ones are two pounds for 35 cents.

A new addition to the shopping scene is the pomegranate. They involve a bit of work, but they're fun and good to eat. Two are yours for 33 cents. For school children's lunches this novel fruit is a real treat.

Broccoli for weekend dinners costs 20 cents a pound, and carrots, which would be a colorful companion vegetable, are two bunches for 19 cents. Field tomatoes are two pounds for 33 cents, and celery is 15 cents. Rounding out the salad makings are green onions, five cents a bunch and radishes the same price.

When you're shopping around town, you might do well to bear in mind some of the shopping rules that were recently proposed by a Canadian paper. Here's another to add to the list: Think carefully about what you lose by paying exorbitant interest rates.

Rich flavor of condensed soups provide a shortcut to the delights of Swedish meatballs, smothered in sauce.

How to Make Swedish Meatballs Easy Way

For a good meal, using some of that plentiful beef, try this easy Swedish meatball recipe. The base of the sauce is a can of condensed soup.

SWEDISH MEATBALLS

One can (1½ cups) condensed cream of celery or mushroom soup, ½ cup water, 1 pound ground beef, ½ cup fine dry bread crumbs, 1 egg, slightly beaten; 2 tablespoons minced onion, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon shortening, 1 tablespoon minced all pickle, if desired.

Blend soup with water. Combine ¼ cup soup mixture, beef, bread crumbs, egg, onion, parsley and salt; shape into balls about 1 inch in diameter. Brown meatballs in shortening. Pour remaining soup over meatballs. Add minced pickle to sauce if desired. Cover and cook over low heat about 20 minutes. Stir occasionally. Six servings.

FRANKS IN SOUR CREAM SAUCE

Twelve-ounce can frankfurters, cut into ½-inch pieces, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, ¼ cup chopped onion, 1 tablespoon flour, ½ cup water, ½ cup commercially soured cream, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon paprika. Melt butter in a skillet. Add onion and cook over medium heat until tender. Stir in flour. Gradually add water and cook until thickened. Stir in sour cream. Serve hot. Yield: four servings.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

This 15-Year-Old Wants Exercises for the Waist

Q—"I am 15 years old, 4 feet 11 and weigh 89 pounds. I know I am a little thin but I would like an exercise to slim my waist since it is too large for my size."

A—"You are about 10 pounds underweight. I cannot imagine that your waist would be too large but here is an exercise. Stand erect with your feet a comfortable distance apart. Bend your elbows and place your palms on the top of your head. Bend to the left, trying to touch your left elbow to your left leg. Raise your trunk. Bend to the right, trying to touch your right elbow to your right leg. Raise your trunk. Continue, alternating left and right. Keep your knees stiff and go as far toward your leg as you can if you cannot touch."

Q—"I would like to lose some weight but I do not know how. I am 19 years old, 5 feet 5 and weigh 144 pounds. Can I afford to lose weight?"

A—"You are quite a lot overweight and should lose from 15 to 20 pounds. Eat a well-balanced diet but take smaller helpings and no seconds; leave off desserts, gravy, fat meat, cream, fried foods, sauces, and all those extra snacks, candy, soda fountain mixtures and so forth. Drink skim milk and boil, bake, steam or broil foods."

Q—"I am 14 years old and I really have a problem. Last summer I went swimming every day with my steady boy friend. I have been going with him for two years. Well, this summer I would not go because I am bow-legged. He got mad at me because I would not go swimming. I tell you it is awful. I wonder if you can help me? I have several pretty bathing suits and lots of shorts but unless you can help me I might as well give them away."

A—"I think you are bow-legged in the brain. In other words you have just become conscious of your bow-legs because they could not change so much in a few months' time. Evidently your boy friend did not think they were unattractive so go on and swim and wear shorts and forget it."

Q—"Is there any product which will bleach the freckles I got this summer while swimming and such?"

A—"Honestly I do not think there is. Time will fade them."

Q—"Is the bicycle exercise good for beautifying the legs?"

A—"It is a good general leg exercise."

Q—"I am a girl of 13. I weigh 134 pounds and am 5 feet 4 inches tall. Am I overweight?"

A—"Yes, you are about 15 pounds overweight. Follow a sensible diet like the suggestions already given."

Good Figure—Clothes Flair—You'll Succeed

TORONTO (CP)—Canadian girls with good figures and a flair for clothes are in demand as models in fashion houses on the other side of the Atlantic, says model Liz Frendergast, just returned from Europe.

Twenty-one-year-old Liz, of suburban Etobicoke, originally planned to tour Europe before settling down to work here.

But while in London, she applied for a job as a model with one of the leading fashion salons, "more or less for fun," and got the job. She was spotted by French couturier Jacques Heim and worked in his Paris salon.

Willowy, dark-haired Liz says European fashion houses "just cannot get enough Canadian models. They are in great demand." She thinks that European experience is invaluable for any Canadian girl who intends making a career of fashion modelling here.

22 Victoria Daily Times FRIDAY, SEPT. 28, 1956

ence is invaluable for any Canadian girl who intends making a career of fashion modelling here. Liz plans to continue her career in Toronto.

Fuel Dealer Fined $7,000 In Tax Fraud

Victoria fuel dealer Mohan Singh, 98 Sims, was fined a total $7,000 in Saanich court Thursday for three charges of income tax evasion from 1952 to 1954 totalling $22,018.11.

Alternate sentence was set at one year on each charge, not concurrent, for a total of three years.

He was given until Oct. 27 to pay the fine. In addition he will be required to pay back taxes plus interest accrued.

Mohan Singh is owner of Ideal Fuel Co., 302 David, and was convicted of the offences Sept. 20 after an eight-month investigation of his business by the income tax department. He pleaded guilty to each charge.

The department said he had listed only $10,000 as income for the three-year period, omitting an additional $16,459 which should have been declared.

He was liable to both fine and imprisonment according to Income Tax Act, but only the fines were imposed by Magistrate H. C. Hall.

SHORT CUT TAKEN

Council By-Passes Procedure By-Law

Ald. Robert Macmillan fought a losing battle in city council Thursday in an attempt to make fellow aldermen adhere to the procedure by-law.

The by-law, which he contested when it was passed in 1954, and which is about to be watered down due to his efforts chiefly, lays down procedure for every situation which might arise in the course of council business.

As Ald. Donald Smith arose when the agenda called for inquiries and replies, Ald. Macmillan protested that any inquiries must be submitted in writing to the city manager for reply at a subsequent meeting.

"It's in the book," said Ald. Macmillan. "They're out of order. I'm getting tired of sitting here listening to people talk when they are not entitled to."

However, Mayor Scourrah accepted questions from Ald. Smith, and answers by Ald. Mrs. Wilson and Ald. W. H. Pinfold.

Later Ald. Macmillan opposed a vote of congratulations to Ald. Don Smith on his recent victory at the polls. In the provincial election.

"There should be no political discussion," said Ald. Macmillan. Council passed the vote anyway, whereat Ald. Macmillan proposed a motion of regret be expressed to Ald. Geoffrey I. Edgelow for his losing the same election race.

"They're making a joke out of this," said Ald. M. H. Mooney.

German Tax Cut Called 'Sweetener'

BONN (Reuters) — The West German Lower House Thursday approved tax cuts worth about 3,000,000,000 marks (about $700,000,000) to West German taxpayers. Independent observers said the government parties passed the cuts partly as a "sweetener" for next fall's election.

Firemen Request Pension Tax on Insurance Firms

A proposal that insurance companies be taxed on their profits from fire insurance premiums to build up firemen's pension funds was brought before city council Thursday.

Eric Simmons, Victoria city fireman who is president of the B.C. Association of Professional Firefighters, urged council members to support the plan and urge its adoption upon the provincial government.

The matter was turned over

Salk Vaccine Value Upheld

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Evidence from the still incomplete 1956 polio season reaffirms the effectiveness and potency of Salk vaccine, the man who evaluated vaccine trials in 1954 said Thursday.

Dr. Thomas Francis, Jr., of the school of public health at the University of Michigan, spoke at the university's medical alumni conference.

Dr. Francis, citing a recent Michigan polio report, said: "As of Sept. 21, of all the 113 polio cases in Michigan diagnosed as paralytic, not one case has been reported among those children who previously had received three shots of Salk vaccine."

Referring to this summer's polio epidemic in Chicago, Dr. Francis added that of 633 paralytic polio cases, not one occurred after a child had received three injections in the prescribed manner.

He said there were some rare instances when a properly inoculated child did catch the disease elsewhere in the U.S.

Wrong Type Car Used; Fine, $25

Driving a car with standard gearshift in violation of her drivers' licence restriction cost Margaret S. Hamblip, 1811 Hollywood Crescent, $25 fine in Saanich court Thursday.

The young woman was restricted to driving only cars with automatic transmission. Police picked her up after she drove through a stop sign at Hobbs and Sinclair Sept. 14, for which she was charged and fined $5.

She told officers she did not see the sign and was not used to driving in the area.

$100,000 Damage

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Clean-up and refurbishing work started today at the Seneca Hotel after a $100,000 fire Thursday left the lobby, kitchen and mezzanine floor badly damaged. About 150 kitchen employees and dining room patrons fled the building. Hotel service was disrupted for more than an hour.

Two Auto Counts Bring Heavy Fine

Driver of a car which went out of control, travelled 78 feet in a ditch, sideswiped a pole and regained the road to drive off, Shirley Joan Carlson, 1404 Bay, was fined a total $60 in Saanich court Thursday.

The accident occurred at 10.12 a.m. Sept. 16 at Glenford and Carey. When police arrived the car was gone, but it was located later and Miss Carlson charged. She was fined $35 for careless driving and $25 for driving without a licence.

The best kind of investment...

INSURANCE, BONDS, STOCKS, SAVINGS - all have important places in a man's plans for his future.

But what of a company like ourselves? How can we best protect our obligations to the employees who serve us and to the communities we serve? What is the best kind of investment we can make?

One asset our Province enjoys, on which all futures depend, are the young men and women who, in time to come, will carry on where we leave off.

To this end, the B. C. Forest Products Scholarship and Bursary award system was initiated in 1950. It enables outstanding students in our communities, who are dependents of our employees, to further their education at Victoria College and the University of British Columbia.

Applications for these scholarships and bursaries are made directly to the University, who have sole say in the selection of the deserving students.

We at BCFP simply see to it that funds for this educational aid are available.

And the years to come will prove to us that this investment is sound and secure.

Andy sends a complete, 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia to Janice Allen, aged 12, of Spokane, Wash., for her question:

Why is Easter Island Called Rapa Nui?

Two hundred years ago, the first surprise when tall white sails arrived along their shores. Rapa Nui was discovered by a Dutch sailor on Easter Day, 1722. He promptly named it and put it on the map as Easter Island. Later, the people of Chile named it Isla de Pasula.

Whalers made the little island a port of call and traders arrived to take the people to work in the guano mines of South America. The islanders, so long isolated from the world, fell prey to sickness and disease. Many perished in fights as they blamed their troubles upon each other. In 50 years, only 175 of the original people of Rapa Nui were left on the island.

By this time, the little island had been rediscovered — this time by scholars interested in the people and their way of life. Too late. What did the strange images represent? No one was left who could tell. How were the massive statues moved around the island? No one knew. What was the meaning of the picture writing carved on wooden slabs? No one remembered.

In 1888, Easter Island was annexed by Chile. Some of the original islanders were brought back home to live. They were given 5,000 acres of the grassy island on which to make their livelihood. The remaining 25,000 acres was turned into a National Park.

Today, sheep graze on the grassy slopes between the quarries. Most of the weird images are broken, probably by earthquakes. Some still remain unfinished in the quarries. A few, set up on their stone foundations with their backs to the sea, still stand brooding over the sad and mysterious little Pacific isle.

It is believed that the ancestors of the people of Rapa Nui went there in boats from the Polynesian islands. Maybe several groups arrived, some as long as 600 years ago. The stone images may have been some kind of tribute to these ancestors since they were often set up on the stone burial mounds. But we are not certain. Nor has anyone been able to read the strange writing so full of pictures of men, fish, birds and animals. Rapa Nui, Easter Island, or Isla de Pasula — it is a place of mysteries and likely to remain so.

SHRUGS OFF THE DUCHESS

LONDON (AP) — The Times, which strongly opposed the marriage of King Edward VIII to Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson, Thursday reviewed her autobiography — in 22 words.

"The Heart Has Its Reasons," said the newspaper, carries the memoirs of the Duchess of Windsor from her childhood in Baltimore to the present day.

On the same page, The Times devoted 233 words to a work about mountain flows.

NATO Army Watches Suez 'Just in Case'

By ROBERT RICE
Canadian Press Staff Writer
NAPLES, Italy (CP)—Military planners at NATO's headquarters here for southern Europe are kept fully informed of Suez developments—just in case.

"Personally, I see no way NATO can be drawn into the Suez at present," says Admiral Robert Briscoe, a soft-spoken American whose command extends from the mountains of northern Italy to the eastern border of Turkey, which faces 280 miles of Russian territory.

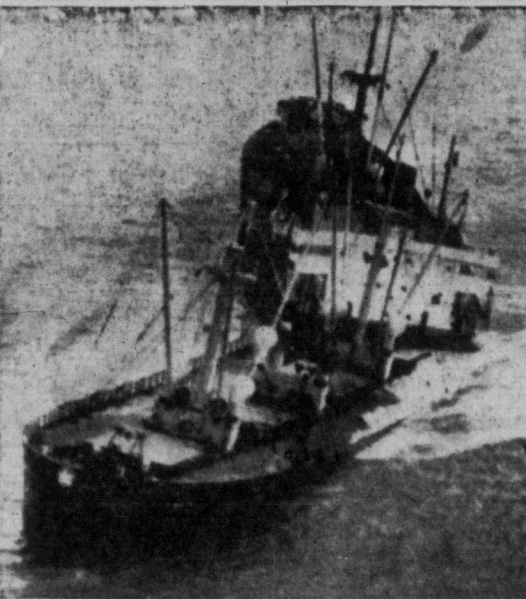

A high officer at AFSOUTH (Allied Forces, Southern Europe) says the 59-year-old Briscoe keeps an alert eye on military implications of possible trouble along the Suez waterway, 1,200 miles across the Mediterranean from his office here.

NATO UNCOMMITTED
But because NATO, on a political level, is not committed as yet to action in the Suez, military interest among officers of the southern command, which includes Italian, Greek, Turkish and American forces, is still in an unofficial category.

Despite the obvious dangers of a Suez flareup, strategists here seem more concerned over growing Soviet influence throughout the Middle East.

The southern command faces 1,700 miles of Soviet satellite territories, which includes natural mountain barriers. But Turkey, far from the North Atlantic, is jammed between Bulgaria on one side and Russia on the other, and nearby are Russian and Iranian oil fields.

Ironically perhaps, Briscoe's command includes British, Greek and Turkish officers, whose countries are still at odds over the future of Cyprus. But military men at least seem convinced of NATO's usefulness, and co-operate among themselves splendidly.

BROKEN BY SEA, Liberian freighter Seagate is twisted into V-shape at beach near Tahola, Wash., 70 miles south of Cape Flattery. Slain Soldier's Dad Hits War Claims Body

OTTAWA (CP) — J. P. Grant, whose son was assassinated by the Germans after being taken prisoner in Normandy, said Thursday the Canadian War-Claims Commission is "very slow in making up its mind" whether to award compensation for his son's death.

"My boy was murdered," he said, "and the man who ordered his murder and that of other Canadians is living well as a beer salesman in Germany."

Mr. Grant was referring to Maj. Gen. Kurt Meyer, commander of a Hitler Youth Division in the 1944 battle of Normandy. Meyer served nine years in prison for responsibility in the mass shooting of 18 Canadian prisoners of war. He was acquitted of ordering prisoners to be shot.

Mr. Grant, a First World War veteran who receives a disability pension, said he is in poor financial circumstances and had two of his sons not been killed in the Second World War they would have been able to help him out. The son murdered by the Germans was Gnr. Thomas Douglas Grant.

London Landladies Levy 'Skin Tax' On Colored Folk

LONDON (CP) — Colored students coming to Britain from Africa and the West Indies to study as doctors, lawyers and teachers have to pay a "tax on their skins," says a British sociologist.

In a book called "Colonial Students," Dr. A. T. Carey calls the color-tax a symptom of the half-way house in which colored students find themselves when they come to London. They are not rejected outright, but they are not fully accepted.

Of every 100 London landladies, says Dr. Carey, about 75 will not accept colored students of any kind. Only about 15 will accept Negro students.

The author believes the color bar is less prevalent in the provinces. As remedies, he suggests increased hostel accommodation and penalties for landladies who refuse to take colored students.

Retarded Child Tied to Crib, Beaten With Lath by Parents

MONTREAL (CP) — A mother and father admitted in court Thursday they beat their four-year-old son sometimes with a lath but only "to correct him."

Judge Rudolphe Camirand reserved judgment until Oct. 12 in the case of Mr. and Mrs. Fernand Larocque, 33 and 29, charged with occasioning bodily harm to their son, Serge, last July 21.

A policeman testified he found the child tied to his crib by his wrists when he arrested the couple. Former roomers at the Larocque home said they had seen both parents use a lath on the child frequently.

FAMOUS 3's of then and now...

Three of Louis XIII's Musketeers joined, with D'Artagnan for the amazing adventures of Dumas' novel. The three: Athos, Porthos, and Aramis.

1956
Nothing fictitious about these three fine beers from Princeton, B.C. One is a light, sparkling pilsen beer, one a full-bodied malt beer, the third a real old-country style ale. They're tops in their class—a perfect threesome to serve in your home at anytime!

He is opposing an application by the Lord's Day Alliance to quash the Sunday sports by-law passed by city council last August.

The statute was adopted as part of British Columbia law by Governor James Douglas before the province entered Confederation.

Mr. Brown said—the Lord's Day Alliance has not laid charges under the act because they "know they can't do it."

Robert McMasters charged that city council had no authority to draft the by-law which permits commercial Sunday sport between 1 p.m. and 6 p.m. He told Mr. Justice A. E. Lord the city charter does not permit a by-law which is contrary to federal and provincial law.

Two Sunday baseball games were played here by Pacific Coast League teams following council's surprise move last August.

Appeals to the Attorney-general's department for a ruling have yielded nothing. The department said it is a matter for the city and the courts.

NEW YORK (Reuters)—Canada Thursday called for an international "atoms-for-peace agency" in which all members would in principle have an equal functional role.

M. H. Wershof, Canadian delegate to the 81-nation United Nations conference meeting here to work out a statute for the atomic energy agency, presented Canada's views.

NEW YORK (UP)—An attorney representing $4,000,000 in damage claims, demanded from the Stockholm's third officer today a minute-by-minute account of the events prior to his ship's collision with the Andrea Doria.

Attorney Leonard Matteson claimed that the Swedish liner Stockholm, which rammed and sank the Italian liner Andrea Doria with a total loss of 50 lives July 25-26, customarily broke international navigation rules by Third officer Ernst Carstens Johannsen denied Thursday that it was the Stockholm's practice never to reduce speed in fog regardless of its density.

Litigants, including both ship lines, have filed more than $42,000,000 in damages. Each line seeks to fix sole responsibility on the other.

The latest suit was filed Thursday by Mrs. Jane Cianfarra, widow of New York Times correspondent Camille Cianfarra who was killed in the collision. Mrs. Cianfarra asked $1,550,000 from each of the airlines for loss of her husband and daughter, Joan, 8, and injuries to a daughter by a previous marriage, Linda Morgan, 12.

LONDON (CP) — Lady Dashwood, Canadian-born wife of Britain's premier baronet, is to visit Canada in November after a lecture tour in the United States.

It is expected she will stay with Governor - General Vincent Massey. She also hopes to visit Toronto.

Moira Eaton, daughter of Col. Vernon Eaton who was killed in 1915 at Vimy Ridge while commanding the 3rd Canadian divisional artillery. Her mother was ODYSSEY ODDITY—This strange contraption, shown in Rustington, England, has transported Canadian adventurer Bobby Macarthy 71,000 miles. Hardly recognizable under all the gadgets is the basic unit—a bicycle. Named the "Heath Robinson" after an English cartoonist famed for drawings of weird contraptions, the whole affair is 23 feet long and weighs half a ton. Macarthy, from Port Huron, Ont., has travelled in North America, Europe and Australia in the past 10 years. He has been hospitalized 39 times for exhaustion. The trailer serves as bedroom and kitchen.

UBC Teacher College To Dispel Dullness

VANCOUVER (CP)—Dean streamlines courses so they can Neville Scarfe of the University proceed more smoothly towards of British Columbia's new college degree. He says better use will be made take the "dullness" out of teacher training. "We intend to make our training courses much more attractive and worthwhile," he said. The new college, which opened recently with an enrolment of 700, is offering a large number of off-campus credit courses to teachers in rural areas and has a plan to get them interested. Staff members will tour the province to recruit such students. Dean Scarfe also proposes to make it easier for UBC undergraduates to transfer from other faculties into education and train more and better teachers.

Vast Lithium Ore Finds Mean Wealth for Manitoba

WINNIPEG (CP)—The Manitoba department of industry and commerce says that recent technical progress in Canada may soon result in the development of more than 12,000,000 known tons of lithium ore in southeastern Manitoba. Three companies staked claims on an area believed to contain more than 6,000,000 tons of this ore, which is the lightest known mineral. The ore was first discovered in the early 1930s but inaccessibility and little knowledge of leaching the mineral from the ore made it worthless for the time being. However, both problems were overcome in the last two years and now, the department of industry and commerce said in a press release, the province may have a new industry. Lithium compounds today are used in the manufacture of multi-purpose lubricants for machinery, airplanes, turbo-jet engines, automobiles, buses and also in ceramics.

SPENDS $1,000,000

One of three companies which have taken up claims in the area has already spent more than $1,000,000 on development and company officials said that $5,000,000 will be spent before the

Col. Peck Honored By Canadian Scottish

In Final Tribute to Regimental Hero

The men of the Canadian Scottish, heirs to the tradition established during the First World War by Col. Cy Peck, paid a final, heartfelt tribute to the former commander Thursday night.

Col. Peck died Thursday in Resthaven Hospital, Sidney, at the age of 85.

The brief commemorative service was held in Bay Street Armory.

Chaplain J. L. W. McLean said a brief prayer and a wreath was laid on a Vimy Memorial Cross.

Pipe-Major Andy Pollock and his pipers played "The Flowers of the Forest," and then the men of the regiment filed quietly out of the armory.

NO DISRUPTION

"Col. Peck wouldn't have wanted us to disrupt our previous engagements with any lengthy formality," said Col. Jack Fawcett, commanding officer of the Victoria Scottish.

"He would have wanted it simple and sincere."

Col. Peck won fame and respect and the Victoria Cross as commander in the First World War of the 16th Battalion, forerunner of today's Scottish Regiment.

Tributes came from many quarters at his passing Thursday.

GREAT BLOW

Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, who also won the legendary VC during the First World War, said, "The passing of Col. Peck has been a great blow to the whole of the district, as he was so closely associated in years gone by with its various activities."

"His name was legendary with the Canadian Scottish, who perpetuate the 16th Battalion, which Col. Peck commanded with such gallantry."

"He was beloved by all ranks of the regiment."

Hon. Robert Mayhew, honorary colonel of the regiment, said:

"The citations of Col. Cy Peck will brighten the pages of British Columbia's military history."

Strive for Renewal of Christian Spirit, Pope Advises Young Canadian Catholics

ROME (Reuters)—The Pope Leger, Archbishop of Montreal, letter continued, "only to learn what the church teaches."

The Pope said that the social teaching of the Catholic church now is considered an integral part of the formation of young Christians.

Monsignor Dell'Acqua, substitute in the Vatican Secretariat of State, wrote a letter on behalf of the Pope to Paul Emile Cardinal

"In the service of social education, there are the fundamental qualities of man and of the Christian, engaged in the struggle against selfishness and pride which drive individuals and groups against each other."

"But it is not sufficient," the groups against each other.

Egyptian figures show daily traffic has dropped only five or six ships from normal since most foreigners on the canal's pilotage staff walked out Sept. 14.

PUZZLE PRIZE NOW $650 —'MEN' TOO TOUGH

Establishing a new record each week, the Times Crossword Puzzle Contest today offers a total award of $650 since no entry in last week's contest was completely correct.
It was a scrambled word that upset most of last week's puzzlers. The clue read:
"Often very fussy with offspring (scrambled.)"
All sorts of answers were given, including "Hen," "Nan," "Man" and "Cat." But the correct answer was "Men."
A hen is proverbially always fussy with its chicks—not just "often" so. Some types of MEN are often fussy with children.
So, a brand new contest is published on Page 30 today, together with complete answer and explanation of more difficult clues to last week's puzzle.

2 Fishermen Rescued After Boat Explodes

VANCOUVER (CP)—Two fishing boats grounded and another exploded and burned in Johnstone Strait, between the northeast coast of Vancouver Island and the Mainland, during the last 24 hours.

Stan Chambers of Vancouver and Jack White of Port Neville were on the gillnetter Evelyn Chambers some three miles out of Port Neville, 150 miles northwest of here, when an explosion Thursday ripped the bottom from the boat.

Fire whipped by 40-mile-an-hour winds swept over the boat. The two men were rescued by another gillnetter minutes before the Evelyn Chambers turned over and sank. Chambers suffered facial cuts and a crushed right knee in the explosion and was brought here for treatment. White was uninjured.

Today, two Vancouver fishermen rammied ashore in pre-dawn storms in Johnstone Strait.

Judge Dismisses Contempt Action Against Unionists

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mr. Justice Harry J. Sullivan of B.C. supreme court has dismissed the first of two contempt of court applications arising out of a strike by the newly formed Tunnel and Rockworkers Union of Canada.

The application, dismissed Thursday, charged eight Vancouver Island men with failure to observe a court-imposed ban on picketing. Mr. Justice Sullivan said the action was dismissed because of lack of sufficient notice of the application and, in some cases, failure to serve all necessary documents.

The men charged were Roy Finch, Russell Davis, Fergus Corkery, Joe Loftus, Bill Windsor, Steve Chalanaki, O. Mage and T. Farrell, all of the Campbell River area.

New Power Fight Splitting Kremlin?

Khrushchev Flight With Tito Seen Hint of Struggle

(From AP and BUP)

LONDON—Nikita Khrushchev was reported today to be in trouble with some Soviet leaders, and may be seeking the support of Yugoslavia's President Tito for his policies of de-Stalinization and easing up on Russia's East European satellites.

Press reports here and in Austria say a new struggle for power inside the Kremlin was back of the surprise trip by Tito to the Soviet Union in company with Khrushchev, who is first secretary of the Soviet Communist party.

Without a word of explanation, Tito took off from Belgrade on Thursday with Khrushchev, who had spent eight days in seclusion with the Yugoslav leader.

Moscow radio said Tito and Khrushchev had arrived in Yalta, site of the "Big Three Meeting" of the Second World War. Earlier Moscow disclosed that Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov were at Sochi, a Red army health resort 300 miles from Yalta across the Black Sea.

There was no official explanation of the trip other than Belgrade and Moscow announcements that Tito and Khrushchev "will be resting" along Russia's Black Sea coast, a subtropical area long famous as a winter resort.

The facts pointed to one conclusion: something of extreme seriousness brought on Khrushchev's mysterious trip to Yugoslavia and Tito's even more amazing flight with him to Crimea.

A surprising feature was Tito's decision to fly. He has not flown since Second World War when the Allies evacuated him from Yugoslavia by air after Nazi troops surrounded his mountain hideaway. Usually he travels by car or armored train.

The reports here and in Vienna say the free-spoken Soviet party boss at last has been caught in a squeeze by a Stalinist bloc in the Politburo and Soviet Army chiefs.

Former foreign minister V. M. Molotov and former premier Georgi Malenkov were reported to believe that Khrushchev had gone too far in his de-Stalinization campaign.

SECURITY DANGER
The army was reported concerned that in trying to please Tito, Khrushchev's policy of easing up on control of the satellites had misfired, and that Soviet security was endangered.

The independent Vienna newspaper Neuer Kurier, in a dispatch from the Yugoslav capital which quotes a "high ranking personality," declares that Khrushchev has been summoned to appear before the Kremlin leadership sitting as a "party court."

The dispatch says Khrushchev was accused of a policy which went awry in the satellites and "led, among other things, to the June 28 Poznan riots in Poland." It says the "party court" may either have been called by Khrushchev's opponents or by Khrushchev himself in an effort to "rehabilitate" himself.

It adds that Khrushchev took Tito back to the Soviet Union as his witness to "Stalin's monstrosities."

4 Suspects Tell Police About Raid on Grave

All four persons held by police in connection with the Alberni grave desecration have now made voluntary statements concerning the grisly deed, it was learned today.

Two girls suspected were arrested in Saanich Thursday. One, Alma Doreen Lockner, 19, has been held at the city jail. Her companion, a juvenile of 17, was kept in custody at Coal Harbour Road detention home.

RCMP officials said both have now made statements concerning the events which culminated in the body of an elderly man being dragged from his grave and towed behind a car with a logger's boom chain.

Implicated Two Female Companions

He suddenly asked for pencil and paper and gave a statement implicating two girl companions. The other youth taken into custody Wednesday night, William Nelson, 18, made a full statement soon after he was apprehended.

The pair had been kept in separate jails—Nelson at Port Alberni, Ferguson at Alberni. Nelson and Ferguson appeared in police court Thursday. Ferguson reserved plea and was remanded to Oct. 6.

Nelson pleaded guilty and was remanded to the same date. Late police reports indicate a third girl was thought to have been present at the cemetery but left when she learned what was contemplated. The two boys are believed to have been at the cemetery earlier in the evening with two other Alberni district girls.

The two girls suspected taken in custody here Thursday were spotted by Saanich detective Robin Stewart, just 10 minutes after RCMP broadcast descriptions.

The detective said they appeared unconcerned and said: "I wish we had come to Victoria two weeks ago when we had planned to... then we wouldn't have been in this trouble."

PENNANT PITCHING PICKS

Braves Select Buhl; Dodgers Name Craig

By United Press
The high-riding Milwaukee Braves can clinch at least a tie for the National League pennant tonight, if a couple of Dodger-killers named Bob Buhl and Bob Friend can just drive two more nails in Brooklyn's coffin.

All it would take would be for bushy-browed Buhl of the Braves to beat the St. Louis Cardinals at St. Louis while pudgy-cheeked Friend of the Pittsburgh Pirates beats the Dodgers in Brooklyn.

The combination of events would put Milwaukee two full games ahead of Brooklyn with only two games left to go. Even if the Braves lost their remaining two games, the best Brooklyn could do would be tie for the flag and force a playoff starting Monday.

Tonight could turn out much differently, however—it could see the Dodgers regain a tie with Milwaukee for first place if Skinny Roger Craig (winless since Aug. 22) can beat Friend while Tom Poholsky of the Cardinals out-pitches Buhl for his third win over Milwaukee this year.

If the Braves and Dodgers both win—Milwaukee would remain one game ahead and be one day nearer the finish line. The only result would be to wipe out the last mathematical hope of the third-place Cincinnati Redlegs. If the Braves and Dodgers both lose—the Braves still would be a game ahead and the Dodgers would have muffed a golden opportunity.

'SEND THE OLD GANG PACKING'

U.K. Paper in Bitter Attack On Royal Family, Friends

LONDON (CP)—The royal court in the fifth year of the reign of Queen Elizabeth II has come under a startling attack from a brash British tabloid.
The Daily Mirror complains that the "new Elizabethan era" heralded when the young Queen ascended to the throne in 1952 is "still the age of the golden cobwebs."

Dreams are fading, the newspaper says, of another adventurous age such as that under "Good Queen Bess" which produced such explorers as Drake and Raleigh and, in the field of arts, Shakespeare and Marlowe.
Favorites today at Buckingham Palace, the Mirror protests, are a dreary, stuffy crowd.
The Mirror, which claims the largest daily readership in the world with a circulation of more than 4,500,000, has launched a campaign to "send the old gang packing."

Knocking a few coronets askew is nothing new for the breezy tabloid—but the direct attack by name on intimate friends of the Royal Family in a series of articles has stunned Britons.

GOLDEN AGE LAGS
The Queen, the Duke of Edinburgh and her lively sister, Princess Margaret, are all taken to task for their choice of friends.
The time has come, the Mirror says, to "reshape the royal circles so that it is no longer a dreary royal roundabout."
"This should have been the age when kings mixed with commoners, when the paraphernalia of protocol was swept aside, when pomp shaved off its whiskers and came down to the people.

"Unhappily, it has not been so."

The Mirror protests that the royal circle is "barred to many brilliant men and women because they speak with the wrong accents or went to the wrong schools or were born at the wrong addresses."

Today was the third day in a row the Liberal paper had criticized members of the Royal Family—particularly the Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh— for being out of date and out of touch.

Judgment Reserved On Sturdy Application

Decision Expected Next Week in Action To View Bank Records of Four Firms

VANCOUVER (CP)—Judgment was reserved Thursday on a request by Vancouver lawyer David Sturdy that he be allowed to see four bank accounts to back up his defence against a slander action by Robert E. Sommers, former British Columbia land and forests minister.

Mr. Sommers took the action after the lawyer made statements about him before the Sloan forestry commission.

Records sought by Mr. Sturdy are those of Pacific Coast Services Ltd., Evergreen Lumber Sales Ltd., H. Wilson Gray, C. D. Schultz and Co. Ltd. and B.C. Forest Products.

Thomas H. Dohm, appearing in Supreme Court Thursday for Mr. Sturdy, said "this is not a fishing expedition. We know what we are looking for and the dates that interest us. We will not want to see any other entries."

He said the records are needed to back up his client's "allegation of a relationship between the plaintiff and the firms concerned."

Mr. Sturdy's affidavit alleged "existence of a system for channelling funds to the plaintiff."

Alfred Bull, appearing for Mr. Sommers, objected to the application and to an affidavit by Mr. Sturdy referring to a speech made by Mr. Sommers in the legislature. He said the speech was privileged and completely irrelevant to the slander suit.

Mr. Bull said his client will be entering "relevant" entries from his bank accounts in an affidavit or documents in the near future.

APPLICATION 'PREMATURE'

"That will be produced which is relevant, that which is not relevant will not be produced," he said. Accounts of Mr. Sommers would be presented in the next day or two and Mr. Sturdy's application was "premature."

Walter Owen, appearing for B.C. Forest Products, also objected to issuance of a court order making the firm's bank records available to Mr. Sturdy.

He said that if an order is made Mr. Sturdy's examination must be restricted to specific items previously identified.

Poor Bond Market Thwarting Saanich

Reeve Calls on Provincial Government To Guarantee Loans for Public Works

Unless the provincial government guarantees loans for municipal projects, Saanich and other B.C. municipalities may be forced to curb public work programs due to a rapidly deteriorating bond market.

This warning was sounded Thursday by Reeve Arthur Ash, who disclosed that Saanich had withdrawn from the open market its $220,000 waterworks bond issue approved for sale by ratepayers last December.

The reeve said the issue was withdrawn because Saanich

would have suffered a discount loss in the sale of its bonds of about $20,000 due to increased interest rates and the lack of competition on the open market. "We could have sold the bonds but we would have taken a terrific beating," he said.

The reeve said municipalities across Canada were faced with the same problem of trying to borrow money at low interest rates for the public works programs. This was becoming increasingly difficult, he said, because markets for municipal bonds were deteriorating.

The reeve said he will press the Union of B.C. Municipalities meeting next month to ask the provincial government to guarantee municipal bonds as they do for schools and village municipalities.

This would enable the municipalities to borrow money at low interest rates, he said.

Referring to the sale of waterworks debentures, the reeve said council called for tenders late last winter. The highest bid received was $90 on each $100 bond.

This meant a loss of about $20,000 on the total issue. While councilors were considering accepting the tender, the reeve said, the council was informed by the brokers a few days before the deadline they could only place $114,000 of the total issue, but at a further increase in the discount.

The brokers said they could not sell the remaining issue of $106,000 worth of debentures. "In view of this situation," the reeve said, "we felt we should withdraw the bonds from the market and borrow from the banks instead."

The reeve said the municipalities to borrow money at low interest rates, he said.

The banks were not fussy about lending the money," he said. "The only agreement that could be obtained was borrowing the money at 5 per cent interest, with an additional stipulation that the sum be paid back in six months."

The reeve said the only alternative was to attempt to sell the bonds again when the market situation showed signs of improving.

"But indications are that it won't improve in Canada," the reeve said, and municipalities are faced with a bleak financial position unless the bonds are backed by the provincial government.

The reeve said the market conditions in the United States were somewhat better and many Canadian municipalities are selling their bonds there.

"We could sell the bonds in the United States," he said, "but we might run into difficulty in placing the issue as the sum of $220,000 would be considered peanuts."

The reeve said the municipality may have to go to the U.S. to borrow $850,000 to complete its sewer project, if the ratepayers approve the by-law, Oct. 27.

While some councilors agreed that the provincial government should guarantee municipal bonds, they felt there were signs that conditions in the open market will improve.

"It doesn't matter when we sell our bonds on the open market," said Coun. Leslie Pasmore. "The moment we put them up for sale it's a gamble. That's the trouble with the system. We have no guarantee that we will get a good price for municipal debentures."

Robert K. Drew, vice-president and advertising manager of the Milwaukee Journal, told a conference of 800 newspaper and advertising officials that color is "a formidable medium" for newspapers, both in attracting readers and for selling through ads.

Following it were two Sabre jet "chase planes," one piloted by Capt. Iven Kincheloe, who had flown the X-2 to its 126,000-foot altitude record.

The X-2 quickly outsped its pursuers and vanished into the sky. No more was heard from its pilot.

Trouble apparently developed while the plane was between 45,000 and 60,000 feet, Edwards Air Force Base officials said, but no details of the plane's plunge to earth were given.

The $3,000,000 X-2 was designed 10 years ago for a maximum air speed of 2,500 miles an hour.

Ghost Exploits Royal Visit; Gets His Rum

PORT LOUIS, Mauritius (AP)—The British governor of this Indian Ocean island is placating the ghost of an admiral with a glass of rum every night—all because Princess Margaret is coming for a visit.

The princess will stay at the governor's mansion after she arrives here Saturday aboard the royal yacht Britannia. The governor, Sir Robert Scott, and his family have moved into a part of the 18th-century building called the Admiral's Wing because the ghost of an old seadog is said to haunt it.

"Tradition," Sir Robert explained, "says the ghost can only be placated by a glass of rum left out nightly."

"The rum always gets drunk. But personally, I don't believe in the ghost story."

Meanwhile, a political crisis is brewing on the island colony and a labor politician has called for a boycott of the royal visit.

HE MAY BE 150 YEARS OLD BUT HIS RIGHT STILL HURTS

NEW YORK (AP)—A New York hospital report Thursday said that peppery little Javier Pereira is a very old man, and "possibly he may be more than 150 years of age."

Even if he is the world's oldest man, the report added, the tiny Indian from Colombia is sprier and better preserved in some respects than many men.

Pereira underscored the finding when he broke up a press conference by taking swings at a couple of reporters. He hit one who reported:

"Believe me, it hurts."

Pereira, four feet, four inches tall, was brought here from South America two weeks ago to try to test the claim of some people that he is 167 years old.

$15 MILLION LOANED EGYPT TO BUY CANADIAN WHEAT

WASHINGTON (AP)—Egypt has been granted a $15,000,000 emergency loan from the International Monetary Fund which will be used for the purchase of Canadian wheat, a spokesman said Thursday night.

A fund spokesman said the loan is covered fully by Egypt's contribution in gold to the fund. He said the transaction is considered routine and one that every country participating in the fund has the right to make.

Under the fund's regulations Egypt is expected to repay the loan within three years but has a maximum of five in which to make repayment. Interest on such a fund withdrawal runs about one-half of one per cent.

Election in June Strongly Hinted By St. Laurent

OTTAWA (CP)—A strong hint has been given by Prime Minister St. Laurent that the federal Liberal Party will go to the country next June to seek its sixth consecutive mandate.

Tories Ready For Election, Says Pearkes

The Progressive Conservative Party will be ready whenever Prime Minister St. Laurent calls a federal election. Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, VC, MP, said Thursday night.

"We are delighted to accept that opportunity," the Conservative MP said at the annual meeting of the party's Esquimalt-Saanich Association. About 100 people attended.

Gen. Pearkes said the Liberal government has been "flouting" the people of Canada in Parliament.

"The government, swollen with its own sense of authority, has been riding roughshod over the rights of the individual, thus assuring its doom at the next election," he said.

George Drew, recently retired as party leader, stood up against the dictatorial majority of the government at the last session.

"Mr. Drew has been defending, as did many statesmen years ago, the rights of the individual," Gen. Pearkes said.

Bandits Foiled, Payroll Missed Bus

LA CIOTAT, France (Reuters)—Five masked bandits armed with machine-guns Thursday held up a busload of passengers near here and made off with three mailbags. Police said the bandits had probably expected to find in the bags a $30,000,000 franc ($140,000) payroll scheduled for delivery to the La Ciotat naval dockyard. But its dispatch had been postponed.

FRENCHMEN PANIC

Monkey Frees Hyena In Riotous Runaway

PARIS (Reuters)—A monkey on a horse rode out of a circus ring Wednesday night and snapped the catch on a hyena's cage as he went by.

Shell Explodes In U.S. Warship; 1 Dead, 9 Hurt

YOKOSUKA, Japan (AP)—An exploding shell killed one American sailor and injured nine others aboard the United States destroyer Buck Thursday. A navy announcement said that apparently the time mechanism in the fuse of a fragmentation shell exploded prematurely. The bursting shell pierced the destroyer's hull, ruptured the ship's forward fire main and put a gun mount out of action.

The Cabinet Changes

MR. BENNETT HAS TRIMMED ship in his cabinet and added two more to the executive crew with which he finished his previous term.

The shuffle in portfolios indicates the premier's assessment of the ministerial strengths of his council colleagues. His new appointments reflect a certain logic.

The upper Island is rewarded for returning new Social Credit members by the appointment of Nanaimo's Mayor Earle C. Westwood. He steps in ahead of older hands to become a minister (trade and industry) before he has physically filled a seat in the Legislature.

If this is admittedly a junior portfolio, the choice of Mr. Westwood still speaks eloquently of Mr. Bennett's judgment of cabinet material on the Government side of the House.

Mr. Peterson, who won the very important Vancouver Centre by-election for Social Credit last January and sat for part of last session, was expected to advance rapidly up the government ladder. He has important duties ahead of him as the new minister of education, though probably they will be less onerous than those assumed by Mr. Ray Williston—formerly a career educationist—when he took over the department.

Mr. Bennett has expressed his confidence in Mr. Williston by placing him officially in charge of lands and forests. The portfolio requires a man of soundness and ability and one capable of establishing public confidence in the departments handling resources which produce half B.C.'s wealth.

His capacities, recognized beyond

party lines, coupled with what has apparently been a satisfactory job of administering the department since it was thrust upon him following the Sommers' resignation, seem to equip Mr. Williston for his tasks.

In another significant change, Mr. Kenneth Kiernan, having brought in a milk act patterned on the Clyne Report, leaves agriculture to concentrate on mines—a responsibility handed to him also when Mr. Sommers left the cabinet.

This change will be variously interpreted, as will the transfer to Mr. Ralph Chetwynd of the agricultural and fisheries departments, while railways—which means the PGE—goes to Mr. Lyle Wicks, who retains his labor portfolio.

The premier is evidently satisfied with others on the executive council. Mr. Wesley D. Black, Mr. Robert W. Bonner, Mr. P. A. Gagliardi, Mr. Eric Martin and Mr. William Chant retain the offices they held in the last administration.

The rewards and responsibilities of politics have come quickly to Mr. Peterson, even more speedily to Mr. Westwood. This is understandable. Social Credit is still a young administration in this province. Significantly, the premier has picked young men for the very considerable tasks before it.

At this point no new and separate department of recreation has been announced. Mr. Bennett hints that such a development may occur. There is strong logic for creating such a ministry and no doubt its formation will be discussed at the next session.

Col. 'Cy' Peck, VC

FRIENDS' FROM ALL WALKS of life have joined in spirit the special memorial service held by his old unit, the Canadian Scottish, in a final tribute to Col. Cyrus W. Peck, V.C.

His death, at 85, has taken from British Columbia one of its highly respected and colorful characters. A gallant soldier who carried into public life the forthrightness of his army training, Col. Peck served his fellows well. The blunt humor of his earlier years, the staunchness of his character, the valor of his service in the field will be remembered.

The Victoria Daily Times joins a host of friends in extending sympathy to the family.

Church and Divorce

A CHURCH OF ENGLAND CONFERENCE at Oxford has agreed that divorce should be permissible "in certain cases."

The opinion is of interest in this country because it implies a thoughtful religious sanction—based on New Testament evidence—for dissolution of marriages under specific circumstances.

The church approach is far behind that of English law, which has liberalized grounds for divorce to include incurable insanity on the part of a spouse and desertion for a period of years, as well as the conventional grounds existing in Canada—adultery.

The ecclesiastical pronouncement, however, is significant here because the recognized religious attitude toward divorce has imposed unshakable restraints on the conscience of many honest people whose unfortunate marriages have made life a tragedy for them.

The B.C. Bar Association on numerous occasions has presented a strong case for amendment of the law—not only on humanitarian grounds but to preserve the character of court. It is an open secret that existing legislation on the matter invites perjury and collusion, and thereby brings legal process into disrepute.

It is not to be expected that the conference at Oxford will be decisive in altering Canada's divorce laws. At the same time, the views expressed in the English city breach the prevailing belief that divorce is intolerable to those who hold firm religious convictions.

Eventually Canada's law will be changed, and the Oxford statement provides just one more justification for change.

Welcome Salesman

IT IS GOOD TO NOTE THAT Britain's top official salesman, Rt. Hon. A. R. W. Low, minister of state for overseas trade, is making the rounds of Canada to remind our people of the quality merchandise they can buy from his agencies.

It is encouraging, also, to note that he has laid aside the so-called British reticence to describe the merits of his wares.

Traditionally, of course, Canadians have looked to Britain for excellence in craftsmanship and soundness in material. Mr. Low, on his current trip, is bringing our people up-to-date on the advances the different British industries have made and the fields in which they hold pre-eminence.

Of course Mr. Low knows that Canadians will buy what they want if the price is right. They will make purchases, however, only if the materials and styles are to their taste. In his catalogue of stocks, Britain's salesman seems to have both variety and quality. It is to be hoped his mission is a success. It is to be hoped, too, that means may be found whereby the trade between Britain and Canada may be restored to a better balance.

Tourist Figures Proving Up

THE RECORD NUMBER OF cars admitted into British Columbia during August supports the earlier indications that the summer of 1956 would eclipse other similar tourist seasons in this province's history.

The motoring public, particularly the American family, is being drawn with increasing strength to this part of the continent—and for very good reasons.

No one is inclined to question the natural attractions of British Columbia to vacationers. As more and more facilities are provided for motor travel and camping, as well as for those visitors who prefer resorts, this part of Canada can look to an increasing number of visitors.

During a summer of such excellent weather as that prevailing this year the magnet of B.C. has proved its power.

One important factor has yet to be revealed, and will only be disclosed when the next tourist season starts: Have British Columbians made their guests so welcome that they will return with their friends? That is a question of vital importance. If the people of this province have shown the courtesy of which they are capable, the answer will be affirmative. And the record number of tourists will constitute the best of all possible advertisements—satisfied customers.

Questions of the Day

THIS surely must be the most impatient age in the world's history. The faster things happen the faster we demand that they happen. In fact nowdays we can't even wait until they happen. We anticipate what's to come by carrying out a public opinion poll. The idea is that if you ask enough people what they think is going to happen you can put all the answers together and get a true peek into the future.

Whassat?

That "don't know" covers a good many different answers, ranging from "I'm afraid I must confess I'm unacquainted with the subject of your interrogation," right down to "Huh?"

Many a time a busy housewife will reply with nothing but an icy glance—woman's concealed weapon—and the pollster must know that her frame of mind is anything but "undecided." However, it will turn up in the statistics as "don't know."

In fact, "don't know" might be described as the great mass answer to all the important questions of the day. The human race is an obstacle race as far as the straw-vote takers are concerned.

Of course, you have to consider the public's side of it too. Ignorance is bliss if, playing dumb gets rid of that fellow on your doorstep quicker. On that basis it's a wonder the polls don't come out 100 per cent in the "don't know" column. Perhaps some folks are so anxious for fame they don't mind having it anonymously. After all, it's a nice boost for your ego to be consulted about the problems of the day, even if you only appear as a nameless one of 10,000 in the $3,000-$4,000 wage bracket, or one of 5,000 brown-eyed six-footers who shave six times a week.

Except for the odd pollster who is overcome by curiosity at night and phones me up to learn what radio program I'm listening to—(Note to pollsters: You'll never catch me at it)—I've had no direct contact with the brain pickers.

But I like to think that I could handle them on the basis of that old story of the three men travelling by train. Says One: "Is this Wembley?" Says Two: "No, I think it's Thursday." Says Three: "So am I. Let's get off and have one."

As Our Readers See It

Bias and Intolerance

I have never read a letter so biased and intolerant as that of Mrs. S. H. Brake in your Friday paper. Anything critical of the Socreds she terms "vicious," any word in their favor is "fair-minded." Every other party is "utterly lacking in decency and honor."

She thinks the Socreds have done more for this province than any other government. Now let us see what they have done.

1. They have raised taxes so that this is now the highest taxed province in Canada.

2. They have despoiled Strathcona Park, a public park that belongs to the people, not to the Socreds or any other government in power. Mr. Bennett had no more right to sell the timber around Buttle Lake than I have to pick the flowers in Beacon Hill Park.

3. In spite of their allegedly large surplus, they have borrowed $40,000,000 from New York. This is in direct contradiction of their pre-election promise to "pay as we go."

4. They have built roads, but so did other governments and with less scandal attached.

5. They built the PGE from Squamish to Vancouver, but the track was already there a lot of the way. The rockslide that stopped the first train was not the doing of the Liberals, it was one effect of incompetent government engineering.

As to charges of bribery and corruption, what is this $28 rebate on property tax (only for those who own property) but bribery? The charges against Mr. Somers were (after much prodding) investigated by the RCMP. If they had found a clean slate one would be pretty sure that the attorney-general would have blazoned the fact in headlines long ago. But he has flatly refused to publish his findings.

Mrs. Brake must realize that more than half the voters in B.C. voted against the Socreds, does she really think that all these people are "utterly lacking in decency and honor"?

Cannot Speak too Highly

As a recent visitor to your fair city, who on account of an illness had to be hospitalized; may I express through your paper my deep appreciation and thanks to Dr. T. McPherson and the Staff and Nurses of the Royal Jubilee Hospital.

I cannot speak too highly of the care and treatment which I received.

A $28 Vote

The election is now over and the government has been returned with a bigger majority. The results and majorities have puzzled many of our politicians both here and in Ottawa, as well as many party members. Yet all guesses on the real cause of the victory have not come to light.

Many say it was the result of smear propaganda. Others say it was the result of the popularity of the candidates and particularly the premier.

I contend that the result was in fact due to the "funny money" of $28 promised by the premier to all home owners. Home owners who didn't even attend a meeting, never paid any attention to press reports, and thousands who never even voted before flocked to the polls like sheep thinking they would get a cheque from Mr. Bennett any day in the mail for $28 to help them pay their taxes. None of these home owners ever gave it a thought that they will have to pay or repay that $28 "funny money" either one way or the other.

L. J. WALSHE.

From W.A.S. to W.A.C.

My hope is, that you, Mr. Premier, will fulfill your promise to make Victoria the most beautiful capital city of any province in Canada.

Nature has endowed us with the setting. But it needs men of courage and vision to harmonize nature's beauty with that of creative man.

Too long Victoria has been left in the hands of unimaginative inept minds, blind to our natural beauty.

Take it out of their control, Mr. Premier, like Ottawa has done.

During a recent stay in Ottawa, I spent days studying the plans and admiring the vision of those responsible for the breathless beauty of Parliament Hill.

But more important for Ottawa are the plans drawn up for its future. Dare we hope you will do the same for Victoria?

Yes, Mr. Premier, go on opening up this wonderful province with roads and more roads, bridges and more bridges, especially a bridge or tunnel connecting Vancouver Island with the mainland.

But when you have done all that, make sure history will applaud your vision by permitting the roads and bridges to lead to the most beautiful cultural city on the northwest Pacific coast; a city really worthy to be called Victoria, the capital of British Columbia.

W. A. SCOTT.

Lacrosse Referees

We read in the account of the Nanaimo-Peterborough lacrosse game which appeared in the Times of Sept. 25 that "Another switch saw Roy Burton of Vancouver removed from the refereeing lineup. He officiated with a different eastern official for each of the first three games and both teams protested his calls."

This certainly makes very interesting reading for Shamrock fans in Victoria. Doesn't this rather prove that the Rocks were right, and that Mr. Burton was, and evidently still is, quite incompetent as a referee?

The action taken by the teams playing for the Mann Cup must justify, if necessary, that action which the Shamrocks were forced to take, for when serious injury is imminent due to inconsistent and biased refereeing one is forced, as were the Rocks, to take drastic steps and reluctantly, forego the ethics of the game.

Anyone who had attended all the home games, as well as several in Nanaimo and Vancouver, this season, knew that it was the only thing the Shamrocks could do.

We have been season ticketholders for the past five years and unless some positive assurance is given that something concrete is to be done about the situation as far as the refereeing is concerned we, with a great number of other fans, will not be back next year. If nothing is done and the games do not receive the support they have in the past, kindly put the blame where it belongs—the Inter-City Lacrosse Commission and the refereeing.

Switching the Negro Vote

THE Negroes, whose votes could be decisive in a whole series of important states, are by no means wildly enthusiastic about Adlai Stevenson. But they are even less enthusiastic about Dwight D. Eisenhower. And, bar some dramatic and effective last minute gesture on the civil rights issue, the President has missed an opportunity to cut heavily into the huge majority Stevenson scored among Negroes in 1952. These conclusions spring from many hours of interviewing Negro voters in this vast city-within-a-city, the greatest concentration of Negro voters in the country, in company with Louis Harris, the professional public opinion expert.

Alsop

The interviewing started in the slum areas. In several hours of climbing up and down the wooden stairs of rickety fire traps, we found not a single Negro voter who intended to vote Republican. Asked why, almost all would respond in much the same words: "We're poor people, and the Democrats are more for the poor people."

By the same token, in the slum buildings we met hardly anyone who was really stirred by the civil rights issue. What aroused the passions of the slum dwellers was the rent they paid for their miserable quarters. "They condemn the building and then double the rent," said a big man furiously. "Now is that right?" He had been utterly apathetic about civil rights.

If there is such a thing as a solid bloc vote, it is in the Negro slums, where the people vote Democratic almost instinctively—if they vote at all. At least in the immediately foreseeable future, there is really no way for the Republicans to make important gains in the Harlem slums.

But by no means all of Harlem is slum, fortunately. And the change in political and social atmosphere when you move out of the slums and into one of the low-cost housing projects, or into a respectable apartment house, is downright astonishing.

Not that there is much increase in Republican sentiment. Even in the really elegant apartments, the vast majority of Negroes consider themselves Democrats. (Our count, for what it is worth, was Stevenson 63 per cent, Eisenhower 20 per cent, don't know 17 per cent, as against a 1952 vote of Stevenson 78 per cent, Eisenhower 22 per cent.)

The real difference is that, outside the slum areas, there are a lot of Negro voters who might have been persuaded to switch to Eisenhower—enough to make a big difference at the polls.

There is one issue, and one issue alone, which could cause such a switch—civil rights.

Harris had prepared questions on such matters as the Atherine Lucy case, the Emmett Till case, and the riots of Clinton, Tenn., to test awareness of the civil rights issue. In the slums, more often than not, the questions elicited no response at all.

Know the Answers

In the projects and apartments, we at length stopped asking the questions—we had learned that everybody knew all the answers in detail. Outside the slums, apathy about civil rights is replaced by a single-minded passion.

Adlai Stevenson is judged almost entirely by this standard, and he is often found wanting. Many Negroes are very moderate on desegregation—"You can't change people overnight," they say. But to many others "moderation" is a dirty word, and there is little enthusiasm among them for Stevenson as the apostle of moderation.

Among these we found a few—a very few—who meant to vote for Eisenhower. There was an intellectual lawyer who admired Stevenson, hated Nixon, but meant to vote for the President because "we'll never get anywhere as long as the Democrats think they own us." There was a seaman who credited the President with desegregation in the Navy—"you wouldn't believe how different it is," he said.

Yet the administration gets very little credit for its civil rights achievements—no one person gave the Republicans any credit for the Supreme Court school decision, for example. And fully four out of ten cited the President's failure to intervene in the Clinton riots as evidence of his indifference on the civil rights issue.

Lost Opportunity

After many hours of interviewing, Harris and this reporter felt certain that the President had missed a major political opportunity. He might have picked up 10 to 15 per cent of the Negro vote by an all-out stand on civil rights—enough to decide a close election.

The fact that the President was almost certainly right, in terms of national unity, in adopting a go-slow policy, is no doubt beside the point. In strictly political terms, the point is that the much-advertised big switch to Eisenhower among Negro voters looks instead like a little switch, or even, conceivably, no switch at all.

B.C. Will Get Oil, Gas Board

Police Accident Report Missing, Lawyer Claims

M-V Branch Failed To Find It—Sinnott

A lawyer claimed in Exchequer Court today the Motor Vehicles Branch could not find an accident report involving a Royal Canadian Mounted Police car which struck an Alberni married couple last December.

The statement was made by P. J. Sinnott, counsel for Jack and Dorothy Dumoulin, who are suing the Crown through a "petition of right" for unstated damages for injuries sustained when they were hit by the police car.

New Minister Makes Plans

Creation of a petroleum and natural gas conservation board in B.C. similar to that in Alberta was forecast today by Mines Minister Kenneth Kiernan, appointed full-time to that position in Thursday's cabinet shuffle.

Mr. Kiernan said he has been studying oil and natural gas administrations in the U.S. and Alberta since taking over the portfolio from R. E. Sommers last spring.

He said legislation may be introduced in 1957 to reorganize the department of mines, previously concerned mostly with mineral and coal deposits, to cope with the mushrooming Peace River oil and natural gas industry.

IRON, STEEL

Mr. Kiernan also said he intends to have a basic iron and steel industry set up in the province "as quickly as possible." Sites for the industry are now being studied, he said.

Equal Parking Penalties Recommended

Equalization of over-parking fines will be recommended to city council public works department by the city police commission.

"At a police commission meeting today, Mayor Percy Scragg termed the inequality 'most unfair'."

"I quite agree that the fines should be equalized," he said. "I've thought for years that the situation was absurd."

At present fine for over-parking at a meter is $1 and in an unmetered restricted zone, $2.50.

Commissioners did not specify any amount for an overall fine.

High-Speed Chase Ends in Court

An 85-90 miles an hour auto chase on Burnside at 12:25 this morning resulted in an impaired driving charge against Thorolf Anderson, 3265 Albion, and $250 fine in city police court today.

Anderson, whose licence was suspended by Magistrate H. C. Hall, was observed by police between Douglas and Harriet weaving from one side of the road to the other and passing traffic on Burnside.

Police said he turned his car headlights on and off to indicate passing when he overtook other cars.

Personality Parade Winners Judging Starts

Processing of about 1,000 Victoria children's pictures is under way today in the Times-Hudson's Bay Company sponsored "Personality Parade of Children."

Judging will be completed next week, prizewinners announced, and photographs printed in the Times.

Placing of the portfolios of lands and forests and mines under separate ministers for the first time since Social Credit took office in 1952, is seen as an indication the government intends to place increasing emphasis on development of the province's rich potential of oil and natural gas.

Meanwhile CCF Leader Robert Strachan has hailed the appointment of Ray Williston as full-time Minister of Lands and Forests.

"I hope it will correct many of the blunders made in that department in the past," he said.

Mr. Williston was one of the ablest administrators in the government, the opposition leader said.

Appointment of Mr. Williston is expected to rule out any possibility of Mr. Sommers regaining his former cabinet posts if he is successful in clearing his name in the courts of the charges of bribe-taking made against him.

Premier Bennett brushed aside reporters' questions following Thursday's swearing of the new ministers on the possibility of Mr. Sommers rejoining the cabinet.

However, it is possible the premier may create a new cabinet portfolio, such as a ministry of recreation, for Mr. Sommers if he wins his slander action against Vancouver lawyer David Sturdy.

Fruit-Packers To Vote on Bargain Rights

A union jurisdictional dispute over bargaining rights in the Okanagan fruit-packing industry will be settled by a referendum vote, Labor Minister Lyle Williams announced today.

A ballot to decide the issue was requested by both the rival Federation of Fruit and Vegetable Workers, Union and the Fruit and Vegetable Workers' union of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters.

Supreme Court action started by one of the unions has been suspended, Mr. Williams said.

The unions have also agreed to have all campaigning before the vote is taken done by local people. The campaigning will be done at joint meetings sponsored by the department of labor.

Q—How old is Craigdarroch, now the headquarters of the Greater Victoria School Board?

—T.B.

Q—In a sketch of the history of Craigdarroch written some years ago, James K. Nesbitt of Victoria said: "The Pacific coast has left but two 'bonanza king' mansions. One of them is in Victoria—Craigdarroch Castle, built by Robert Dunsmuir. The other is the Pacific Union Club in San Francisco, once the home of James Flood. Both went up in the eighties. Robert Dunsmuir in those days ranked in wealth with Flood, Mark Hopkins, James Fair and Charles Crocker, 'the bonanza kings of California.'"

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the question along to The Times, addressed to "Ask The Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily.

All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to solve conundrums.

BETWEEN TIMES By MONTE ROBERTS

I have been asked to tell all I know about the Community Chest.

Fortunately, I do not know much about the Community Chest.

I can only presume "Community" means a bunch of people, and my only knowledge of "Chest" is the part of my anatomy which enables me to breathe.

So I guess "Community Chest" means a bunch of people breathing.

This is, no doubt, a splendid idea, but doesn't help me much in telling all I know about the Community Chest, because, fortunately, I do not know much about the Community Chest.

Fortunately, I have never been released from jail, with nowhere to go, and no counsel to seek, other than the John Howard Society.

Fortunately, I have never been crippled by arthritis and have never received treatment through the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society.

Fortunately, I haven't needed a visit from a VON nurse.

Fortunately, I don't know anything about the Community Chest Christmas Bureau which took care of 262 children and 214 adults last Yuletide.

Fortunately, I have had no contact with the Sunshine Camp at Sassex, where elderly people, blind people, and others who can't plan their own holiday have a fresh-air type vacation.

Fortunately, I've never been needed over at a public function and received recognition from the St. John Ambulance Brigade.

Fortunately, I've never been an unmarried mother, and had to depend on the Family and Children's Service.

Fortunately, I know nothing whatsoever about 12 other organizations which receive financial support from the Community Chest.

So I guess I am a very fortunate fellow.

I hope you, too, know as little about the Community Chest as I do.

And that you're never in a position to need Community Chest help.

DEPUTY MINISTER OF EDUCATION FOR B.C., Dr. H. L. Campbell, has been elected vice-president of the Canadian Education Association in convention at Winnipeg. Dr. T. Boulanger, director of studies for the Catholic School Commission in Montreal, was named president.

CREDIT CURBS DEFENDED

More Immigrants Urged by Banker

Despite tightened credit curbs throughout Canada a "very real threat" of inflation exists, general manager of the Toronto-Dominion Bank, Toronto, A. T. Lambert, said here today.

To help battle this, a three-pronged approach is advocated by Toronto-Dominion Bank-president A. C. Ashford. These are:

Speeded-up immigration; careful credit curtailment; and capital expenditure programs, and personal savings.

The bank's two leading men are here with top bank officers and directors on a tour of principal cities of Western Canada, mainly to obtain first-hand data on business conditions and visit the various branches, 32 in British Columbia alone.

On charges credit curbs have caused a slump in the municipal bond market, which could force halt of Saanich's $220,000 waterworks program, Mr. Lambert said such situations were "painful." But he added that municipal governments must share responsibility with business to guard against inflation.

"Monetary policy would not be doing its job of restraining inflationary pressure if it did not pinch somewhere."

Neither bank chiefs has any idea how long credit curbs will last.

The situation was termed "non-political," and there was no indication that politics would be a determining factor on Canada's credit curb stand.

Premier Bennett, whom directors met today for a three-quarter hour talk, was termed "a super salesman for B.C." by Mr. Ashford.

There is no need, he went on, for the small borrower from banks to worry.

Five New Branches To Be Opened

The bank's expansion in B.C. has exceeded that of "most other provinces" with three new branches opened this year and five others slated for opening before year's end.

The president made some predictions of Canada's growth: Population by 2056 will be 116,000,000.

Gross national product in 2056 will be $900,000,000 at 1956 prices.

NEW SHIP TO REPLACE LIGHTHOUSE TENDER BERENS

A new ship to replace the 35-year-old lighthouse tender CGS Berens will arrive at Victoria next week, a department of transport spokesman said today.

She is CGS Sir James Douglas, built by Burrard Drydock Co. Ltd., North Vancouver, and now on acceptance trials in mainland waters.

On arrival of the new ship, the Berens will be withdrawn from service after being a familiar sight in Vancouver Island waters, mainly in the Race Rocks-Albert Bay area.

The Berens' master, Capt. Joe Peterson, and her crew will be posted to the Sir James Douglas, and other crew added to bring strength up to 27.

The new ship, sister to CGS Alexander Mackenzie, which operates out of Prince Rupert, is 150 feet over-all, 30 feet in beam, with a molded depth of 13 feet 6 inches. She displaces 720 tons, and is diesel-powered for a service speed of 12 to 13 knots.

Heavy lift gear and commodious well-deck space will enable the Sir James Douglas to handle heavy buoys and other navigation aids.

The Berens is only 65 feet long, and was built in Victoria. She carries a crew of 10.

PLEASE DON'T SQUEEZE THE PEACHES.

That's what the proprietors of the fruit store wrote on the sign, and can you blame them? How many times have you done it yourself, only to frown when you come across fruit bruised from other people doing the same thing? You can see that these luscious-looking peaches are fresh and juicy, and they're yours at five for 25 cents. Not only can you buy peaches, but all kinds of fruit and vegetables for a quarter. This seems to be a popular price.

For a quarter you can buy a globe artichoke, a frothy white cauliflower, three bunches of tender young beets, six cobs of yellow corn or a pound of green beans.

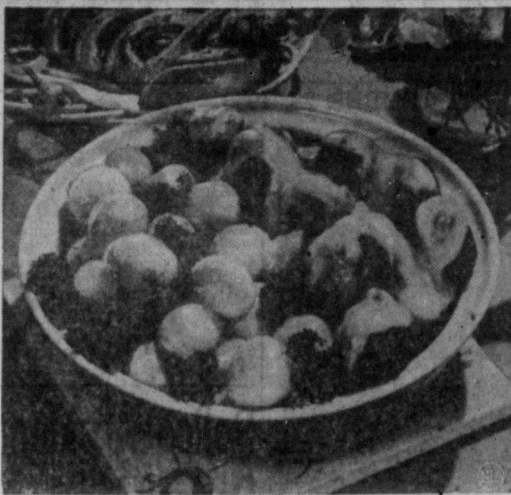

Another popular price put on things is 25 cents. For this sum you may purchase a pound of leafy green Brussels sprouts, two pounds of spinach, two bunches of tender parsnips or two pounds of large Tokay grapes.

In the grape display I also saw large sweet muscats at 28 cents a pound, and ladyfinger grapes at the same price. Green seedless ones are two pounds for 35 cents.

A new addition to the shopping scene is the pomegranate. They involve a bit of work, but they're fun and good to eat. Two are yours for 33 cents. For school children's lunches this novel fruit is a real treat.

Broccoli for weekend dinners costs 20 cents a pound, and carrots, which would be a colorful companion vegetable, are two bunches for 19 cents. Field tomatoes are two pounds for 33 cents, and celery is 45 cents. Rounding out the salad makings are green onions, five cents a bunch and radishes the same price.

When you're shopping around town, you might do well to bear in mind some of the shopping rules that were recently proposed by a Canadian paper. Here's another to add to the list: Think carefully about what you lose by paying exorbitant interest rates.

Rich flavor of condensed soups provide a shortcut to the delights of Swedish meatballs, smothered in sauce.

How to Make Swedish Meatballs Easy Way

SWEDISH MEATBALLS

One can (1 1/4 cups) condensed cream of celery or mushroom soup, 1/2 cup water, 1 pound ground beef, 1/2 cup fine dry bread crumbs, 1 egg, slightly beaten; 2 tablespoons minced onion, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon shortening, 1 tablespoon minced dill pickle, if desired.

Blend soup with water. Combine 1/4 cup soup mixture, beef, bread crumbs, egg, onion, parsley and salt; shape into balls about 1 inch in diameter. Brown meatballs in shortening. Pour remaining soup over meatballs. Add minced pickle to sauce if desired. Cover and cook over low heat about 20 minutes. Stir occasionally. Six servings.

FRANKS IN SOUR CREAM SAUCE

Twelve-ounce can frankfurters, cut into 1/2-inch pieces, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 1/4 cup chopped onion, 1 tablespoon flour, 1/2 cup water, 1/2 cup commercially soured cream, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon paprika. Melt butter in a skillet. Add onion and cook over medium heat until tender. Stir in flour. Gradually add water and cook until thickened. Stir in sour cream. Serve hot. Yield: four servings.

Couple Wed in Victoria Make Home in Vancouver

Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Corke, bouquet of deep pink gladioli who were married in a recent ceremony in Church of St. George the Martyr, Cadboro Bay, have made their home at 3 West 2nd Avenue, Vancouver.

The bride is the former Miss Audrey Lois Digby, daughter of Mrs. F. Digby, 434 - Simcoe Street, and the late Mr. F. Digby.

She was given in marriage by her brother, Trevor Digby. For the ceremony she wore a princess style dress of heavy taffeta fashioned with tiny buttons from high-collared neckline to hem, a fitted bodice and very full skirt with bustle and train. A headdress of orange blossoms held her waist-length veil of tulle, and completing her bridal ensemble she carried a gladioli, the same toned blooms as seen in the bride's and attendants' bouquets, were placed on the altar. Rev. William Hills officiated at the double ring service.

David G. Sloan proposed the toast to the bride's future happiness at a reception party held in the Victoria Golf Club. A three-tier wedding cake flanked by silver candelabra centred the main table which was covered with a lace cloth made by the groom's mother.

Leaving for a honeymoon trip through Okanagan, Washington and Oregon, the bride wore a chocolate brown sheath dress with brown accessories and a pink hat. She wore a pale pink chrysanthemum corsage on her fur jacket.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

This 15-Year-Old Wants Exercises for the Waist

Q—"I am 15 years old, 4 feet 11 and weigh 89 pounds. I know I am a little thin but I would like an exercise to slim my waist since it is too large for my size."

A—"You are about 10 pounds underweight. I cannot imagine that your waist would be too large but here is an exercise."

Q—"I would like to lose some weight but I do not know how. I am 19 years old, 5 feet 5 and weigh 144 pounds. Can I afford to lose weight?"

A—"You are quite a lot overweight and should lose from 15 to 20 pounds. Eat a well-balanced diet but take smaller helpings and no seconds; leave off desserts, gravy, fat meat, cream, fried foods, sauces, and all those extra snacks, candy, soda fountain mixtures and so forth. Drink skim milk and boil, bake, steam or broil foods."

Q—"I am 14 years old and I really have a problem. Last summer I went swimming every day with my steady boy friend. I have been going with him for two years. Well, this summer I would not go because I am bow-legged. He got mad at me because I would not go swimming. I tell you it is awful. I wonder if you can help me? I have several pretty bathing suits and lots of shorts but unless you can help me I might as well give them away."

A—"I think you are bow-legged in the brain. In other words you have just become conscious of your bow-legs because they could not change so much in a few months' time. Evidently your boy friend did not think they were unattractive so go on and swim and wear shorts and forget it."

Q—"Is there any product which will bleach the freckles I got this summer while swimming. I tell you it is awful. I wonder if you can help me?"

A—"Honestly I do not think there is. Time will fade them."

Q—"Is the bicycle exercise good for beautifying the legs?"

A—"It is a good general leg exercise."

Q—"I am a girl of 13. I weigh 134 pounds and am 5 feet 4 inches tall. Am I overweight?"

A—"Yes, you are about 15 pounds overweight. Follow a sensible diet like the suggestions already given."

Good Figure—Clothes Flair—You'll Succeed

TORONTO (CP) — Canadian girls with good figures and a flair for clothes are in demand as models in fashion houses on the other side of the Atlantic, says model Liz Prendergast, just returned from Europe.

Twenty-one-year-old Liz, of suburban Etobicoke, originally planned to tour Europe before settling down to work here.

But while in London, she applied for a job as a model with one of the leading fashion salons, "more or less for fun," and got the job. She was spotted by French couturier Jacques Heim and worked in his Paris salon.

Willowy, dark-haired Liz says European fashion houses "just cannot get enough Canadian models. They are in great demand." She thinks that European exper-

PENNANT PITCHING PICKS

Braves Select Buhl;
Dodgers Name Craig

The high-riding Milwaukee Braves can clinch at least a tie for the National League pennant tonight, if a couple of Dodger-killers named Bob Buhl and Bob Friend can just drive two more nails in Brooklyn's coffin.

All it would take would be for busy-bodied Buhl of the Braves to beat the St. Louis Cardinals at St. Louis while pudgy-cheeked Friend of the Pittsburgh Pirates beats the Dodgers in Brooklyn.

The combination of events would put Milwaukee five full games ahead of Brooklyn with only two games left to go. Even if the Braves lost their remaining two games, the best Brooklyn could do would be tie for the flag and force a playoff starting Monday.

Tonight could turn out much differently, however—it could

Egypt Making Success

LONDON (AP)—Western shippers indicated today Egypt's comparatively smooth operation of the Suez Canal has caused them to suspend plans for a mass by-passing of the waterway by voyages around Africa.

Egyptians Believe Nehru
Can Solve Suez Impasse

CAIRO (UP)—Semi-official Egyptian sources said today a Suez compromise lies almost exclusively in the hands of Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru of India.

Nehru sent his roving ambassador V. K. Krishna Menon to Cairo last week for conferences with Egyptian President Nasser on the dispute over the canal. Krishna Menon, since has flown to London to confer with British officials.

The sources said that a "workable compromise solution" might be produced during Nehru's talks with President Eisenhower when he visits Washington in December.

Today, President Eisenhower was the target of a bitter attack by the Nasser government's newspaper, Al Gomhouriya. Referring to Mr. Eisenhower's condemnation of Egypt's Suez Canal blockade on Israeli ship-

DENYING ANY PART in Alberni grave desecration when first arrested, David Windsor Ferguson, 19, broke down in cell Thursday. Asking for paper and pencil he gave police statement implicating two girls. An RCMP constable is at rear in photo.

4 Suspects Tell
Police About
Raid on Grave

All four persons held by police in connection with the Alberni grave desecration have now made voluntary statements concerning the grisly deed, it was learned today.

Two girls suspected were arrested in Saanich Thursday. One, Alma Doreen Lockner, 19, has been held at the city jail. Her companion, a juvenile of 17, was kept in custody at Coal Harbor Road detention home.

RCMP officials said both have now made statements concerning the events which culminated in the body of an elderly man being dragged from his grave and towed behind a car with a logger's boom chain.

Implicated Two Female Companions

He suddenly asked for pencil and paper and gave a statement implicating two girl companions.

The other youth taken into custody Wednesday night, William Nelson, 18, made a full statement soon after he was apprehended.

The pair had been kept in separate jails—Nelson at Port Alberni, Ferguson at Alberni.

Nelson and Ferguson appeared in police court Thursday. Ferguson reserved plea and was remanded to Oct. 6.

Nelson pleaded guilty and was remanded to the same date. Late police reports indicate a third girl was thought to have been present at the cemetery but left when she learned what was contemplated.

The two boys are believed to have been at the cemetery earlier in the evening with two other Alberni district girls.

The two girl suspects taken in custody here Thursday were

In Hurried Flight
With President Tito

(From AP and BUP)

LONDON—Nikita Khrushchev was reported today to be in trouble with some Soviet leaders, and may be seeking the support of Yugoslav President Tito for his policies of de-Stalinization and easing up on Russia's East European satellites.

Press reports here and in Austria say a new struggle for power inside the Kremlin was back of the surprise trip by Tito to the Soviet Union in company with Khrushchev, who is first secretary of the Soviet Communist party.

Without a word of explanation, Tito took off from Belgrade on Thursday with Khrushchev, who had spent eight days in seclusion with the Yugoslav leader.

Moscow radio said Tito and Khrushchev had arrived in Yalta, site of the "Big Three Meeting" of the Second World War. Earlier Moscow disclosed that Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov were at Sochi, a Red army health resort 300 miles from Yalta across the Black Sea.

Two fishermen rescued after boat explodes

VANCOUVER (CP)—Two fishing boats grounded and another exploded and burned in Johnstone Strait, between the northeast coast of Vancouver Island and the Mainland, during the last 24 hours.

Stan Chambers of Vancouver and Jack White of Port Neville were on the gillnetter Evelyn Chambers some three miles out of Port Neville, 150 miles northwest of here, when an explosion Thursday ripped the bottom from the boat.

Fire whipped by 40-mile-an-hour winds swept over the boat. The two men were rescued by another gillnetter minutes before the Evelyn Chambers turned over and sank. Chambers suffered facial cuts and a crushed right knee in the explosion and was brought here for treatment. White was uninjured.

Today, two Vancouver fish-packers rammied ashore in pre-dawn storms in Johnstone Strait.

JUDGE DISMISSES
Contempt Action Against Unionists

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mr. Justice Harry J. Sullivan of B.C. supreme court has dismissed the first of two contempt of court applications arising out of a strike by the newly formed Tunnel and Rockworkers Union of Canada.

The application, dismissed Thursday, charged eight Vancouver Island men with failure to observe a court-imposed ban on picketing. Mr. Justice Sullivan said the action was dismissed because of lack of sufficient notice of the application and, in some cases, failure to serve all necessary documents.

The men charged were Roy Finch, Russell Davis, Ferguson Corkery, Joe Loftus, Bill Windsor, Steve Chalanski, O. Mage and T. Farrell, all of the Campbell River area.

PUZZLE PRIZE NOW $650
—MEN' TOO TOUGH

Establishing a new record each week, the Times Crossword Puzzle Contest today offers a total award of $650 since no entry in last week's contest was completely correct.

It was a scrambled word that upset most of last week's puzzlers. The clue read: "Often very fussy with offspring (scrambled)." All sorts of answers were given, including "Hen," "Nan," "Man" and "Cat." But the correct answer was "Men."

A hen is proverbially always fussy with its chicks—not just "often" so. Some types of MEN are often fussy with children.

So, a brand new contest is published on Page 30 today, together with complete answer and explanation of more difficult clues to last week's puzzle.

Judgment Reserved On Sturdy Application

Decision Expected Next Week in Action To View Bank Records of Four Firms

VANCOUVER (CP)—Judgment was reserved Thursday on a request by Vancouver lawyer David Sturdy that he be allowed to see four bank accounts to back up his defence against a slander action by Robert E. Sommers, former British Columbia land and forests minister.

Mr. Sommers took the action after the lawyer made statements about him before the Sloan forestry commission.

Records sought by Mr. Sturdy are those of Pacific Coast Services Ltd., Evergreen Lumber Sales Ltd., H. Wilson Gray, C. D. Schultz and Co. Ltd. and B.C. Forest Products. Thomas H. Dohm, appearing in Supreme Court Thursday for Mr. Sturdy, said "this is not a fishing expedition. We know what we are looking for and the dates that interest us. We will not want to see any other entries."

He said the records are needed to back up his client's "allegation of a relationship between the plaintiff and the firms concerned."

Mr. Sturdy's affidavit alleged "existence of a system for channelling funds to the plaintiff."

Alfred Bull, appearing for Mr. Sommers, objected to the application and to an affidavit by Mr. Sturdy referring to a speech made by Mr. Sommers in the legislature. He said the speech was privileged and completely irrelevant to the slander suit.

Mr. Bull said his client will be entering "relevant" entries from his bank accounts in an affidavit or documents in the near future.

APPLICATION 'PREMATURE'
"That will be produced which is relevant, that which is not relevant will not be produced," he said. Accounts of Mr. Sommers would be presented in the next day or two and Mr. Sturdy's application was "premature."

Walter Owen, appearing for B.C. Forest Products, also objected to issuance of a court order making the firm's bank records available to Mr. Sturdy. He said that if an order is made Mr. Sturdy's examination must be restricted to specific items previously identified.

Poor Bond Market Thwarting Saanich

Reeve Calls on Provincial Government To Guarantee Loans for Public Works

Unless the provincial government guarantees loans for municipal projects, Saanich and other B.C. municipalities may be forced to curb public work programs due to a rapidly deteriorating bond market.

This warning was sounded Thursday by Reeve Arthur Ash, who disclosed that Saanich had withdrawn from the open market its $220,000 waterworks bond issue approved for sale by ratepayers last December.

The reeve said the issue was withdrawn because Saanich

would have suffered a discount loss in the sale of its bonds of about $20,000 due to increased interest rates and the lack of competition on the open market.

"We could have sold the bonds but we would have taken a terrific beating," he said.

Referring to the sale of waterworks debentures, the reeve said council called for tenders late last winter. The highest bid received was $90 on each $100 bond.

This meant a loss of about $20,000 on the total issue.

While councilors were considering accepting the tender, the reeve said, the council was informed by the brokers a few days before the deadline they could only place $114,000 of the total issue, but at a further increase in the discount.

The brokers said they could not sell the remaining issue of $106,000 worth of debentures. "In view of this situation," the reeve said, "we felt we should withdraw the bonds from the market and borrow from the banks instead."

This would enable the municipalities to borrow money at low interest rates, he said.

Hope Market Will Improve Soon

Council, he said, may call again for tenders for the sale of the bonds in the hope that the competitive bond market improves within the next few months.

The reeve said municipalities across Canada were faced with the same problem of trying to borrow money at low interest rates for the public works programs. This was becoming increasingly difficult, he said, because markets for municipal bonds were deteriorating.

The reeve said he will press the Union of B.C. Municipalities meeting next month to ask the provincial government to guarantee municipal bonds as they do for schools and village municipalities.

"This would enable the municipalities to borrow money at low interest rates, he said.

Banks Want Repayment in 6 Months

The banks were not fussy about lending the money," he said. "The only agreement that could be obtained was borrowing the money at 5 per cent interest, with an additional stipulation that the sum be paid back in six months."

The reeve said the only alternative was to attempt to sell the bonds again when the market situation showed signs of improving.

"But indications are that it won't improve in Canada," the reeve said, and municipalities are faced with a bleak financial position unless the bonds are backed by the provincial government.

The reeve said the market conditions in the United States were somewhat better and many Canadian municipalities are selling their bonds there.

"We could sell the bonds in the United States," he said, "but we might run into difficulty in placing the issue as the sum of $220,000 would be considered peanuts."

The reeve said the municipality may have to go to the U.S. to borrow $850,000 to complete its sewer project, if the ratepayers approve the by-law, Oct. 27.

While some councilors agreed that the provincial government should guarantee municipal bonds, they felt there were signs that conditions in the open market will improve.

"It doesn't matter when we sell our bonds on the open market," said Coun. Leslie Passmore. "The moment we put them up for sale it's a gamble. That's the trouble with the system. We have no guarantee that we will get a good price for municipal debentures."

Ghost Exploits Royal Visit; Gets His Rum

PORT LOUIS, Mauritius (AP)

The British governor of this Indian Ocean island is placating the ghost of an admiral with a glass of rum every night—all because Princess Margaret is coming for a visit.

The princess will stay at the governor's mansion after she arrives here Saturday aboard the royal yacht Britannia. The governor, Sir Robert Scott, and his family have moved into a part of the 18th-century building called the Admiral's Wing because the ghost of an old sea dog is said to haunt it.

"Tradition," Sir Robert explained, "says the ghost can only be placated by a glass of rum left out nightly."

"The rum always gets drunk. But personally, I don't believe in the ghost story."

Meanwhile, a political crisis is brewing on the island colony and a labor politician has called for a boycott of the royal visit.

HE MAY BE 150 YEARS OLD BUT HIS RIGHT STILL HURTS

NEW YORK (AP)—A New York hospital report Thursday said that peppery little Javier Pereira is a very old man, and "possibly he may be more than 150 years of age."

Even if he is the world's oldest man, the report added, the tiny Indian from Colombia is sprier and better preserved in some respects than many men.

Pereira underscored the finding when he broke up a press conference by taking swings at a couple of reporters. He hit one who reported:

"Believe me, it hurts."

Pereira, four feet, four inches tall, was brought here from South America two weeks ago to try to test the claim of some people that he is 167 years old.

Police Accident Report Missing; Lawyer Claims

M-V Branch Failed To Find It—Sinnott

A lawyer claimed in Exchequer Court today the Motor Vehicles Branch could not find an accident report involving a Royal Canadian Mounted Police car which struck an Alborn married couple last December.

The statement was made by P. J. Sinnott, counsel for Jack and Dorothy Dumoulin, who are suing the Crown through a "petition of right" for unstated damages for injuries sustained when they were hit by the police car.

Driver of the RCMP car, Constable R. C. Thorpe, was asked by Mr. Sinnott if he had made an accident report after the accident which occurred at Bear Creek, near Alborn.

REPORT FILED

The constable said he made the report which was filed with the superintendent of Motor Vehicles Branch as required by law.

"Are you sure of that; remember you are under oath," Mr. Sinnott said.

The lawyer then stated that he had gone to the motor vehicle branch but they could not find the RCMP accident report.

Constable Thorpe testified that it was snowing heavily at the time of the accident and he could only see 10 feet ahead of him.

He said just before the accident he was traveling at about 10 miles an hour and 15 miles an hour at the point of impact.

His speed estimates were only guesswork, he said, as he was not looking at his speedometer at the time.

He said he saw the couple only an instant before the car struck them.

Mr. Sinnott noted that a photographer was able to take a picture 22 feet away from the point of impact despite the storm.

STOPPED SNOWING

The constable replied that it had stopped snowing at the time the picture was taken.

Mr. Justice A. Thurlow, trial judge who was sent from Ottawa to try the case, asked the witness if his windshield wipers were working and if they were clearing the snow from his window.

The witness testified that he was able to stop the car 30 feet away from the point of impact.

Mr. and Mrs. Dumoulin in their action claimed the constable was driving negligently and too fast. They also alleged he failed to sound his horn when approaching them.

They were both struck from behind by the police car.

The case is continuing.

New Minister Makes Plans

Creation of a petroleum and natural gas conservation board in B.C. similar to that in Alberta was forecast today by Mines Minister Kenneth Kiernan, appointed full-time to that position in Thursday's cabinet shuffle.

Mr. Kiernan said he has been studying oil and natural gas administrations in the U.S. and Alberta since taking over the portfolio from R. E. Sommers last spring.

He said legislation may be introduced in 1957 to reorganize the department of mines, previously concerned mostly with mineral and coal deposits, to cope with the mushrooming Peace River oil and natural gas industry.

IRON, STEEL

Mr. Kiernan also said he intends to have a basic iron and steel industry set up in the province "as quickly as possible." Sites for the industry are now being studied, he said.

Placing of the portfolios of lands and forests and mines under separate ministers for the first time since Social Credit took office in 1952, is seen as indication the government intends to place increasing emphasis on development of the province's rich potential of oil and natural gas.

Meanwhile CCF Leader Robert Strachan has hailed the appointment of Ray Williston as full-time Minister of Lands and Forests.

"I hope it will correct many of the blunders made in that department in the past," he said.

Mr. Williston was one of the ablest administrators in the government, the opposition leader said.

Appointment of Mr. Williston is expected to rule out any possibility of Mr. Sommers regaining his former cabinet posts if he is successful in clearing his name in the courts of the charges of bribe-taking made against him.

Premier Bennett brushed aside reporters' questions following Thursday's swearing of the new ministers on the possibility of Mr. Sommers rejoining the cabinet.

However, it is possible the premier may create a new cabinet portfolio, such as a ministry of recreation, for Mr. Sommers if he wins his slander action against Vancouver lawyer David Sturdy.

Fruit-Packers To Vote on Bargain Rights

A union jurisdictional dispute over bargaining rights in the Okanagan fruit-packing industry will be settled by a referendum vote, Labor Minister Lyle Wicks announced today.

A ballot to decide the issue was requested by both the rival Federation of Fruit and Vegetable Workers Union and the Fruit and Vegetable Workers union of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters.

Supreme Court action started by one of the unions has been suspended, Mr. Wicks said.

The unions have also agreed to have all campaigning before the vote is taken done by local people. The campaigning will be done at joint meetings sponsored by the department of labor.

ASK THE TIMES

Q.—Will you please tell me the day and date a CPR train was derailed at Lake Chapau in 1907?—R.L.

A.—There was a serious train wreck at Chapau, Ont., and it is probably that one about which you inquire. Your best plan is to write to Public Relations, CPR, Vancouver, B.C. You will probably quickly be given the information you desire.

Q.—How old is Craigdarroch, now the headquarters of the Greater Victoria School Board?—T.B.

A.—In a sketch of the history of Craigdarroch written some years ago, James K. Nesbitt of Victoria said "The Pacific coast has left but two bonanza king mansions. One of them is in Victoria—Craigdarroch Castle, built by Robert Dunsmuir. The other is the Pacific Union Club in San Francisco, once the home of James Flood. Both went up in the eighties. Robert Dunsmuir in those days ranked in wealth with Flood, Mark Hopkins, James Fair and Charles Crocker, "the bonanza kings of California."

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the question along in The Times, addressed to "Ask The Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily.

All questions should deal with matters of fact and of general interest. The Times does not undertake to solve problems.

BETWEEN TIMES By MONTE ROBERTS

I have been asked to tell all I know about the Community Chest.

Fortunately, I do not know much about the Community Chest.

I can only presume "Community" means a bunch of people, and my only knowledge of "Chest" is the part of my anatomy which enables me to breathe.

So I guess "Community Chest" means a bunch of people breathing.

This is, no doubt, a splendid idea, but doesn't help me much in telling all I know about the Community Chest, because, fortunately, I do not know much about the Community Chest.

Fortunately, I have never been released from jail, with nowhere to go, and no counsel to seek, other than the John Howard Society.

Fortunately, I have never been crippled by arthritis and have never received treatment through the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society.

Fortunately, I haven't needed a visit from a VON nurse. Fortunately, I don't know anything about the Community Chest Christmas Bureau which took care of 262 children and 214 adults last Yuletide.

Fortunately, I have had no contact with the Sunshine Camp at Sasenen, where elderly people, blind people, and others who can't plan their own holiday have a fresh-air type vacation.

Fortunately, I've never keeled over at a public function and received resuscitation from the St. John Ambulance Brigade.

Fortunately, I've never been an unmarried mother, and had to depend on the Family and Children's Service.

Fortunately, I know nothing whatsoever about 12 other organizations which receive financial support from the Community Chest.

So I guess I am a very fortunate fellow.

I hope you, too, know as little about the Community Chest as I do.

And that you're never in a position to need Community Chest help.

Fortunately, though, you are in a position to help those who—fortunately—are not you.

CREDIT CURBS DEFENDED

More Immigrants Urged by Banker

By TONY DICKASON

Despite tightened credit curbs throughout Canada a "very real threat" of inflation exists, general manager of the Toronto-Dominion Bank, Toronto, A. T. Lambert, said here today.

To help battle this, a three-pronged approach is advocated by Toronto-Dominion Bank president A. C. Ashforth. These are:

—Speeded-up immigration; careful credit curtailment of capital expenditure programs, and personal savings.

The bank's two leading men are here with top bank officers and directors on a tour of principal cities of Western Canada, mainly to obtain first-hand data on business conditions and visit the various branches, 32 in British Columbia alone.

On charges credit curbs have caused a slump in the municipal bond market, which could force halt of Saanich's $220,000 waterworks program, Mr. Lambert said such situations were "painful." But he added that municipal governments must share responsibility with business to guard against inflation.

"Monetary policy would not be doing its job of restraining inflationary pressure if it did not pinch somewhere."

Neither bank chiefs has any idea how long credit curbs will last.

The situation was termed "non-political" and there was no indication that politics would be a determining factor on Canada's credit curb stand.

Premier Bennett, whom directors met today for a three-quarter hour talk, was termed "a super salesman for B.C." by Mr. Ashforth.

Five New Branches To Be Opened

The bank's expansion in B.C. has exceeded that of "most other provinces" with three new branches opened this year and five others slated for opening before year's end.

The president made some predictions of Canada's growth: Population by 2056 will be 116,000,000.

Gross national product in 2056 will be $900,000,000 at 1956 prices.

NAVAL SHIP MOVEMENTS

Ontario left today, returning Oct. 6.

Digby left today, returning Sun. Sunday.

Brookville leaves a.m. Saturday returning p.m. Sunday.

NOW ON ACCEPTANCE TRIALS near Vancouver is CGS Sir James Douglas, replacement for lighthouse tender CGS Berens operating out of Victoria. The Sir James is sister to CGS Alexander Mackenzie, above.

NEW SHIP TO REPLACE LIGHTHOUSE TENDER BERENS

A new ship to replace the 35-year-old lighthouse tender CGS Berens will arrive at Victoria next week, a department of transport spokesman said today.

She is CGS Sir James Douglas, built by Burrard Drydock Co. Ltd., North Vancouver, and now on acceptance trials in mainland waters.

Equal Parking Penalties Recommended

Equalization of over-parking fines will be recommended to city council public works department by the city police commission.

At a police commission meeting today, Mayor Percy Scragg termed the inequality "most unfair."

"I quite agree that the fines should be equalized," he said. "I've thought for years that the situation was absurd."

At present fine for over-parking at a meter is $1 and in an unmetered restricted zone, $2.50.

Commissioners did not specify any amount for an overall fine.

High-Speed Chase Ends in Court

An 85-90 miles an hour auto chase on Burnside at 12.25 this morning resulted in an impaired driving charge against Thorolf Anderson, 3265 Albion, and $250 fine in city police court today.

Anderson, whose licence was suspended by Magistrate H. C. Hall, was observed by police between Douglas and Harriet weaving from one side of the road to the other and passing traffic on Burnside.

Police said he turned his car headlights on and off to indicate passing when he overtook other cars.

The witness testified that he was able to stop the car 30 feet away from the point of impact.

Mr. and Mrs. Dumoulin in their action claimed the constable was driving negligently and too fast. They also alleged he failed to sound his horn when approaching them.

They were both struck from behind by the police car.

The case is continuing.

Victoria Aged Pensioners' Association, No. 3, will meet in the Britannia League Hall, Tuesday, at 2 p.m.

NEW SHIP TO REPLACE LIGHTHOUSE TENDER BERENS

On arrival of the new ship, the Berens will be withdrawn from service after being a familiar sight in Vancouver Island waters, mainly in the Race Rocks-Albert Bay area.

The Berens' master, Capt. Joe Peterson, and her crew will be posted to the Sir James Douglas, and other crew added to bring strength up to 27.

The new ship, sister to CGS Alexander Mackenzie, which operates out of Prince Rupert, is 150 feet over-all, 30 feet in beam, with a molded depth of 13 feet 6 inches. She displaces 720 tons, and is diesel-powered for a service speed of 12 to 13 knots.

Heavy lift gear and commodious well-deck space will enable the Sir James Douglas to handle heavy buoys and other navigation aids.

The Berens is only 66 feet long, and was built in Victoria. She carries a crew of 10.

PLEASE DON'T SQUEEZE THE PEACHES.

That's what the proprietors of the fruit store wrote on the sign, and can you blame them? How many times have you done it yourself, only to find when you come across fruit bruised from other people doing the same thing? You can see that these luscious-looking peaches are fresh and juicy, and they're yours at five for 25 cents. Not only can you buy peaches, but all kinds of fruit and vegetables for a quarter. This seems to be a popular price.

For a quarter you can buy a globe artichoke, a frothy white cauliflower, three bunches of tender young beets, six cobs of yellow corn or a pound of green beans.

Rich flavor of condensed soups provide a shortcut to the delights of Swedish meatballs, smothered in sauce.

How to Make Swedish Meatballs Easy Way

SWEDISH MEATBALLS

One can (1½ cups) condensed cream of celery or mushroom soup, ½ cup water, 1 pound ground beef, ½ cup fine dry bread crumbs, 1 egg, slightly beaten; 2 tablespoons minced onion, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon shortening, 1 tablespoon minced onion, if desired.

Blend soup with water. Combine ¼ cup soup mixture, beef, bread crumbs, egg, onion, parsley and salt; shape into balls about 1 inch in diameter. Brown meatballs in shortening. Pour remaining soup over meatballs. Add minced pickle to sauce if desired. Cover and cook over low heat about 20 minutes. Stir occasionally. Six servings.

FRANKS IN SOUR CREAM SAUCE

Twelve-ounce can frankfurters, cut into ½-inch pieces, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, ¼ cup chopped onion, 1 tablespoon flour, ½ cup water, ½ cup commercially soured cream, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon paprika.

Melt butter in a skillet. Add onion and cook over medium heat until tender. Stir in flour. Gradually add water and cook until thickened. Stir in sour cream. Serve hot. Yield: four servings.

Young Students Honor Guests at BPW Supper

U.K. Paper in Bitter Attack On Royal Family, Friends

LONDON (CP) — The royal court in the fifth year of the reign of Queen Elizabeth II has come under a startling attack from a brash British tabloid.

The Daily Mirror complains that the "new Elizabethan era" heralded when the young Queen ascended to the throne in 1952 is "still the age of the golden cobwebs."

U.S. INVITES REDS TO SEE FREE ELECTION

WASHINGTON (UP) — This country has invited Russia and four other Red countries to send representatives on an expense-paid tour of the United States to observe "free electoral processes."

The State department said today the invitations went out about nine days ago to Moscow, Poland, Hungary, Romania and Czechoslovakia. They were asked to send two or three observers each.

If the Communist nations accept, the visitors will be permitted to see the windup of the election campaign and observe Americans going to the polls "around the country." They will see and hear the candidates. Their expenses will be paid by the United States while they are here.

The invitations in effect underscored President Eisenhower's recent call for free elections in Poland.

Illegal Police Work Admitted In Poznan Riot

POZNAN, Poland (UP) — Seven young Poles accused of such crimes as armed attacks on the public security office and firing at government officials give their side of the story today in the second day of the Poznan riot trials.

Two others on trial with them, Zenon Urbanek, a 20-year-old railroad worker, and Josef Pocztowy, pleaded "partially guilty" to the charges Thursday. The trial adjourned before the other seven could speak before the three-judge tribunal.

Three other Polish youths tried on charges of beating a Polish army corporal to death during the June riots heard a prosecutor admit four policemen are under arrest for using illegal methods in attempting to extract confessions.

POLICE STAND GUARD

Trials of the three accused murderers and of the nine other men are being held in Poznan's grey stone courthouse only half a mile from the June riots in which 53 persons were killed. The trials are expected to end Oct. 2 or 3.

A large contingent of police stood guard outside the building today.
